Common Ground in First Language and Intercultural Interaction Istvan Kecskes, 2023-03-06 In recent years the traditional approach to common ground as a body of information shared between participants of a communicative process has been challenged Taking into account not only L1 but also intercultural interactions and attempting to bring together the traditional view with the egocentrism based view of cognitive psychologists it has been argued that construction of common ground is a dynamic emergent process It is the convergence of the mental representation of shared knowledge that we activate assumed mutual knowledge that we seek and rapport as well as knowledge that we co construct in the communicative process This dynamic understanding of common ground has been applied in many research projects addressing both L1 and intercultural interactions in recent years As a result several new elements aspects and interpretations of common ground have been identified Some researchers came to view common ground as one component in a complex contextual information structure Others analyzing intercultural interactions pointed out the dynamism of the interplay of core common ground and emergent common ground The book brings together researchers from different angles of pragmatics and communication to examine i what adjustments to the notion of common ground based on L1 communication should be made in the light of research in intercultural communication ii what the relationship is between context situation and common ground and iii how relevant knowledge and content get selected for inclusion into core and emergent common ground

Talk Alison Wood Brooks, 2025-01-21 A groundbreaking book that reveals the hidden architecture of our conversations and how even small improvements can have a profound impact on our relationships in work and life from a celebrated Harvard Business School professor and leading expert on the psychology of conversation Alison Wood Brooks brings to life the science of conversation in which she is a world expert with the utmost warmth empathy and joy Angela Duckworth 1 New York Times bestselling author of Grit All of us can struggle with difficult conversations but we're often not very good at the easy ones either. Though we do it all the time, Harvard professor Alison Wood Brooks argues that conversation is one of the most complex, demanding, and delicate of all human tasks, rife with possibilities for misinterpretation and misunderstanding. And yet, conversations can also be a source of great joy, each one offering an opportunity to express who we are and learn who others are, to feel connected, loved, and alive. In Talk, Brooks shows why conversing a little more effectively can make a big difference in the quality of our close personal relationships as well as our professional success. Drawing on the new science of conversation, Brooks distills lessons that show how we can better understand, learn from, and delight each other. The key is her TALK Maxims: Topics: Choose topics and manage them well; Asking: Ask more questions; Levity: Use humor to keep conversations fizzy; Kindness: Prioritize their partners' conversational needs. Through experiments ranging across the conversational spectrum, from speed daters who ask too few questions or too many to future business leaders averse to topic forethought to traffic stops that reveal the essence of kind language, Brooks takes us inside the world of conversation, giving us the confidence and the advice to approach any interaction with more creativity and compassion. Addressing our face-to-face conversations as well as those we have by phone, email, text, and social media, Talk is a thoughtful guide for anyone seeking to better establish and sustain their relationships. From managing our emotions and sparking creativity to navigating conflict and being more inclusive, the right conversation skills just might be the key to leading a more purposeful life.
