Rising 6th Grade Ela Summer Packet

Edie L. Holcomb

Rising 6th Grade Ela Summer Packet:

Closing the Achievement Gap Samuel C. Stringfield, 2021-01-27 Closing the Achievement Gap is made up of six articles. The first paper examines Cleveland's restructuring initiative in light of two theories on early adolescent development: person in environment theory and the focal theory of change. This is followed by a study that illustrates the difference in academic performance between low income children and their peers, minority children and their classmates, and those schools that serve a majority of children from low income families and those that serve a more advantaged population. The third article summarizes key findings of a study that examined the reform efforts of three large urban school districts and a portion of a fourth that had been successful in improving student achievement and reducing racial achievement gaps. It also discusses the implications for research and technical assistance. Next, survey data on 15,800 high school students from three urban school districts is used to investigate the impact of school level support for higher educational attainment and school racial composition on students' actual educational aspirations. The final article explores whether reading books during summer vacation improves fall reading proficiency and whether access to books increases the volume of summer reading.

Academic Conferences for School and Teacher Leaders Eli Johnson, Arthur L. Costa, 2014-06-04 Academic conferences increase collaboration and support collegial dialogue between teachers, principals, and district administrators while providing a forum for education professionals to consider school practices old and new and plan ways to best utilize them all in the future. This book by experienced educators Eli Johnson and Arthur L. Costa is about encouraging and enhancing these necessary but often neglected conversations as a means of helping educators identify the ways that innovative teaching strategies can best connect positive classroom outcomes to the long term plans, learning goals, and academic purposes of a school and district. Academic Conferences for School and Teacher Leaders proves an invaluable tool for educators and educational administrators who are tasked with the toughest decisions facing our struggling school system today and is an ideal fit for courses in educational leadership and supervision of instruction. When structured effectively, academic conferences can transform schools and help educational leaders mine the excellence of every student in their classrooms, and this book is a necessary guide for any leader whose goal is to do just that.

Ending Social Promotion Without Leaving Children Behind Jennifer Sloan McCombs, Sheila Nataraj Kirby, Louis T. Mariano, 2009-10-15 The New York City Department of Education asked RAND to conduct an independent longitudinal evaluation of its 5th grade promotion policy. The findings of that study, conducted between March 2006 and August 2009, provide a comprehensive view of the policy's implementation and its impact on student outcomes, particularly for students at risk of retention and those who were retained in grade.

Feminist Posthumanisms, New Materialisms and Education Jessica Ringrose, Katie Warfield, Shiva Zarabadi, 2020-04-28 This edited collection is a careful assemblage of papers that have contributed to the maturing field within education studies that works with the feminist implications of the theories and methodologies of posthumanism and new materialism what we have also called elsewhere PhEmaterialism The generative questions for this collection are what if we locate education in doing and becoming rather than being And how does associating education with matter multiplicity and relationality change how we think about agency ontology and epistemology This collection foregrounds cutting edge educational research that works to trouble the binaries between theory and methodology It demonstrates new forms of feminist ethics and response ability in research practices and offers some coherence to this new area of research This volume will provide a vital reference text for educational researchers and scholars interested in this burgeoning area of theoretically informed methodology and methodologically informed theory The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in Taylor Francis journals
