Salamon, Janice Marie Molnar, 1991-01-01 In his preface to this volume Lester M Salamon writes that Homelessness among children and youth is too serious a problem to be ignored in our national social policy Both for its immediate effects on those who are homeless and for the inadequacies it reveals in our social support systems homelessness among children and youth has truly become a national tragedy If this book helps to bring this problem to national attention to document its scope and consequences and to point the way toward possible solutions it will have amply served its purpose Based on a conference sponsored by The Johns Hopkins University Institute for Policy Studies last year this volume brings together some of the best research and policy analysis ever assembled on this important issue Among the contributors are Lisa Mihaly Marjorie J Robertson James D Wright Yvonne Rafferty Kay Young McChesney Chester Hartman Michael A Stegman Linda A Wolf and Carol W Williams The volume covers issues from the scope of child homelessness to its broader impacts and causes and the social responses needed to copy with it The volume focuses on two populations with differing needs and solutions very young children infants pre schoolers and school age children who are part of homeless families and older young people who are homeless but on their own pregnant teens and teen parents runaways and older adolescents Central to the volume is a critical examination of the health mental health developmental and educational impacts produced by homelessness causes of the problem in society the economy and our housing market and the levels of existing support systems In short this is a comprehensive state of the art examination of homelessness as it affects children and will be greeted as such by policy makers at all levels of government and by professionals in economics sociology social work and urban studies

Negotiating Demands Laura Huey, 2007-01-01 The relationship between policing and the governance of society is an important and complex one especially as it relates to destitute areas Through a comparative analysis of policing in skid row districts in three cities Edinburgh San Francisco and Vancouver Negotiating Demands offers an inside look at the influence of local political moral and economic issues on police practices within marginalized communities Through an analysis of various theoretical approaches and ethnographic field data Laura Huey unveils a portrait of skid row policing as a political process Police are regularly called upon to negotiate often conflicting sets of demands especially within the context of disadvantaged or troubled neighbourhoods Examining a broad spectrum of police procedures and community responses Huey offers a reconceptualization of the police as political actors who negotiate demands of different constituencies How the police meet these demands through incident and context specific uses of law enforcement peacekeeping social work and knowledge work are shown to be a product of the civic environment in which they operate and of the moral economic forces that shape public discourse Negotiating Demands is an original and thought provoking study that not only advances our knowledge of police organization and decision making strategies but also refines our understanding of how processes of social inclusion and exclusion occur in different liberal regimes and how they can be addressed
