Rising From The Ruins Reason Being And The Good After Auschwitz:

Rising from the Ruins Garth Jackson Gillan, 2012-02-01 Rising from the Ruins is an assessment of reason being and the good in a world fractured by the passage of the Shoah or Holocaust The historical character of evil that appeared in the Shoah damaged the relationship of human existence to being creating a time when the confidence of reason to possess the truth no longer exists Rising from the Ruins relocates the relationships among being reason and the good in terms of a metaphysics ethics and politics that derive from faith and heteronomy Rather than another attempt to document the horror of the Shoah this book chronicles what the world is like for those who have read and listened to previous accounts Rising from the Ruins doesn't celebrate surviving the Holocaust instead it speaks of a rationality that sees truth and the good through the eyes of suffering and the silence of death Such a rationality Gillan suggests looks more like faith and it takes its place among the sweat and tears of common men and women who are dedicated to building a human city populated with children the poor the sick and the aged

Adorno on Politics after Auschwitz Gary A. Mullen, 2015-12-30 In the minds of many critical theorists Theodor W Adorno epitomizes the failure of critical theory to provide any concrete guidance for political practice His name is almost synonymous with the retreat of the progressive intellectual from the creeping totalitarianism of contemporary mass democracy This book endeavors to disrupt this misconception by offering a close reading of Adorno's philosophical confrontation with the Holocaust and the modern conceptions of history morality and subjectivity that are complicit in genocide By rethinking the relationship between reason and remembrance morality and materiality mimesis and political violence Adorno's work offers not only incisive criticism of modern political ideas and institutions it also shows us intimations of a different political practice

Human Rights for Refugees and Other Marginalised Persons Devorah Wainer, 2023-08-07 This book provides a new framework for conducting qualitative research into Asylum Seeking Refugees based on Emmanuel Levinas' ethic of the face to face encounter The methodology originates in the term Midrash a narrative form that exposes investigates searches It reconceptualises encounters between Asylum Seeking Refugees and those researching their experiences in a manner that moves beyond the possibility of Othering and the removal of voice that can characterise research into refugees This methodology allows a complex and rich multidimensional text with heterogeneity of voices experiences and subjects As a phenomenological method of research the internal phenomena of the researcher feeling intuition and personal perception are legitimate sites of knowledge and understanding and are not considered separate from the external objectively observable world While the researcher is not researching herself she is also not separate from the research field and data The Midrash methodology is an honest and explicit method of research designed to reinvigorate the passion of academics and researchers

Deracination Walter A. Davis, 2001-02-15 Through a critique of history as a reality a discipline and a way of writing Deracination challenges the basic theoretical tenets of both humanism and postmodernism As a discipline history is currently undergoing what Heidegger would call a productive crisis and a number of thinkers including Michel Foucault Hayden White Paul Ricoeur and Stephen Greenblatt have begun to reexamine the cognitive assumptions and narrative paradigms that inform the discipline This book radicalizes such developments in order to construct both a new theory of history as well as a new concept of how histories should be written To make the interrogation concrete the book focuses on Hiroshima and the ways in which the trauma of that event has been repressed by the discourses that historians have fashioned in order to explain what happened on August 6 1945

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1998
The Review of Metaphysics, 1998 Choice, 2001 History and Memory After Auschwitz Dominick LaCapra, 1998

Dominick LaCapra focuses on the interactions among history memory and ethico-political concerns as they emerge in the aftermath of the Shoah Particularly notable are his analyses of Albert Camus's novella The Fall Claude Lanzmann's film Shoah and Art Spiegelman's comic book Maus LaCapra also considers the Historians Debate in the aftermath of German reunification and the role of psychoanalysis in historical understanding and critical theory

The Genocidal Mind Dennis B. Klein, 2005-03-05 If we wish to recognize the genocidal mentality the authors maintain we must reckon not only with the increased callousness of the killers but also with their misguided conviction that they were engaged in something constructive to humanity
