River Of Fire The Clydebank Blitz:

River of Fire JOHN. MACLEOD,2021-03-04 Vibrating with endeavours for Britain s effort against the might of Nazi Germany Clydebank was in hindsight an obvious target for the attentions of the Luftwaffe When on the evening of 13 March 1941 the authorities first detected that Clydebank was on beam targeted by the primitive radio guidance system of the German bombers no effort was made to raise the alarm or to direct the residents to shelter or flight Within the hour a vast timber yard three oil stores and two distilleries were ablaze one pouring flaming whisky into a burn that ran blazing into the Clyde itself in vivid ribbons of fire And still the Germans came and Clydebank now an inferno lay illuminated and defenceless as heavy bombs of high explosive as land mines and parachute blasters began to fall With reference to written sources and the memories of those who survived the experience John MacLeod tells the story of the Clydebank Blitz and the terrible scale of death and devastation speculating on why its incineration has been so widely forgotten and its ordeal denied any place in national honour

Without Quarter Russell Galbraith,2018-08-23 Journalist and statesman Tom Johnston 1881 1965 was considered by many as the greatest Scotsman of his time In founding the popular Glasgow based newspaper Forward in 1906 he created a platform for lively socialist and nationalist debate in Scotland for over half a century Johnston moved into active politics in 1922 to become one of the Clydeside group of MPs rising to become one of the great Secretaries of State for Scotland in the wartime coalition under Churchill After 1945 he was chairman of a number of public organizations including the Scottish Tourist Board the Scottish National Forestry Commission and the North of Scotland Hydro Electricity Board 1946 59 and oversaw the monumental hydro electric schemes which revolutionised Scottish power supply This is the story of a remarkable and much loved politician and a deeply principled and respected man

The Fight for Rent Control Paul Q. Watchman,

Dying for the nation Lucy Noakes,2020-02-05 Death in war matters It matters to the individual threatened with their own death or the death of loved ones It matters to groups and communities who have to find ways to manage death to support the bereaved and to dispose of bodies amidst the confusion of conflict It matters to the state which has to find ways of coping with mass death that convey a sense of gratitude and respect for the sacrifice of both the victims of war and those that mourn in their wake This social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War places death at the heart of our understanding of the British experience of conflict Drawing on a range of material Dying for the nation demonstrates just how much death matters in wartime and examines the experience management and memory of death The book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War Youth at War Mike Osborne,2023-09-17 The Second World War was the cause of more civilian casualties many of them young people than of military In Britain young people were on the front line facing the threat of enemy invasion and the fragmentation of daily life Their education was disrupted as their schools were taken over by government the military and ARP as pupils were evacuated and staff conscripted curriculum was diluted and part time schooling instituted and concerns over food and accommodation increased Along with the physical dangers of bombing and the increased disease caused by deprivation and social dislocation youngsters endured psychological and emotional pressure from anxieties over home and family Young people worked in industry and agriculture served in the Home Guard and ARP carried out voluntary activities in health and welfare and prepared for military service as cadets and in uniformed organisations School buildings aided the war effort as military HQs training centres research centres for weapons development and central to ARP especially in the cities were often at the forefront of the bombing This book attempts an overview of the circumstances under which youngsters grew up between 1939 and 1945 on the Home Front with particular emphasis on the 14 18 age group The Age of the Gas Mask Susan R. Grayzel,2022-08-11 Uncovers how a material object the civilian gas mask can reveal the power and limits of the modern state facing total war Honeysuckle Creek Andrew Tink,2018-11-01 Honeysuckle Creek reveals the pivotal role that the tracking station at Honeysuckle Creek near Canberra played in the first moon landing Andrew Tink gives a gripping account of the role of its director Tom Reid and his colleagues in transmitting some of the most watched images in human history as Neil Armstrong took his first step Part biography and part personal history this book makes a significant contribution to Australia's role in space exploration and reveals a story little known until now As Christopher Columbus Kraft Jr the director of flight operations for Apollo 11 acknowledged The name Honeysuckle Creek and the excellence which is implied by that name will always be remembered and recorded in the annals of manned space flight A wonderful and inspirational story beautifully told As hard as it is to do this extraordinary yarn justice Andrew Tink has done it Peter FitzSimons Eric Hobsbawm: A Life in History Richard J. Evans,2019-02-07 At the time of his death at the age of 95 Eric Hobsbawm 1917 2012 was the most famous historian in the world His books were translated into more than fifty languages and he was as well known in Brazil and Italy as he was in Britain and the United States His writings have had a huge and lasting effect on the practice of history More than half a century after it appeared his books remain a staple of university reading lists He had an extraordinarily long life with interests covering many countries and many cultures ranging from poetry to jazz literature to politics He experienced life not only as a university teacher but also as a young Communist in the Weimar Republic a radical student at Cambridge a political activist an army conscript a Soho man about town a Hampstead intellectual a Cambridge don an influential journalist a world traveller and finally a Grand Old Man of Letters In A Life in History Richard Evans tells the story of Hobsbawm as an academic but also as witness to history itself and of the twentieth century's major political and intellectual currents Eric not only wrote and spoke about many of the great issues of his time but participated in many of them too from Communist resistance to Hitler to revolution in Cuba where he acted as an interpreter for Che Guevara He was a prominent part of the Jazz scene in Soho in the late 1950s and his writings played a pivotal role in the emergence of New Labour in the late 1980s and early 1990s This the first biography of Eric Hobsbawm is far more than a study of a professional historian It is a study of an era The Evolution of Housing Stewart

Montgomery, 2025-09-24 The study evaluates developments in housing law and related housing policy in the context of economic political and social changes within capitalism A central theme is to provide a comprehensive outline of the evolution of social rented housing through the lens of housing law Developments in private sector housing are also examined to demonstrate how tenure forms shift in line with economic and political requirements As well as assessing developments across the United Kingdom specific sections focus on Scottish housing One innovative section is the assessment of specific housing association activities in the 1980s The study concludes with two alternative ways of addressing contemporary housing problems A systemic and inter disciplinary perspective is provided to understand the nature of developments in housing law and related policy The study draws on specific philosophical and theoretical perspectives and elucidates that housing law is essentially reformist in nature People likely to find this book of interest are academics historians housing professionals policy makers social scientists solicitors students and members of the public
