Researching Social Change Julie McLeod, Rachel Thomson, 2009-03-26 Questions about change in social and personal life are a feature of many accounts of the contemporary world While theories of social change abound discussions about how to research it are much less common This book provides a timely guide to qualitative methodologies that investigate processes of personal generational and historical change The authors showcase a range of methods that explore temporality and the dynamic relations between past present and future Through case studies they review six methodological traditions memory work oral life history qualitative longitudinal research ethnography intergenerational and follow up studies It illustrates how these research approaches are translated into research projects and considers the practical as well as the theoretical and ethical challenges they pose Research methods are also the product of times and places and this book keeps to the fore the cultural and historical context in which these methods developed the theoretical traditions on which they draw and the empirical questions they address Researching Social Change is an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students across the social sciences who are interested in understanding and researching social change Speculative Biography Donna Lee Brien, Kiera Lindsey, 2021-09-30 While speculation has always been crucial to biography it has often been neglected denied or misunderstood This edited collection brings together a group of international biographers to discuss how and why each uses speculation in their work whether this is to conceptualise a project in its early stages work with scanty or deliberately deceptive sources or address issues associated with shy or stubborn subjects After defining the role of speculation in biography the volume offers a series of work in progress case studies that discuss the challenges biographers encounter and address in their work In addition to defining the speculative spectrum within the biographical endeavour the collection offers a lexicon of new terms to describe different types of biographical speculation and more deeply engage with the dynamic interplay between research subjectivity and that which Natalie Zemon Davis dubbed informed imagination By mapping the field of speculative biography the collection demonstrates that speculation is not only innate to biographical practice but also key to rendering the complex mystery of biographical subjects be they human animal or even metaphysical
