STEAM Meets Story Gloria D. Campbell-Whatley, Diane Rodriguez, Jugnu Agrawal, 2021 This innovative STEAM guide will help general and special education teachers to increase effective instruction with adolescents grades 5-10 The authors show teachers how to link STEM concepts with popular fiction and film selections as a catalyst to launch student interactions discussions projects and investigations This approach will promote problem solving and reasoning skills by initiating the scientific process rather than simply presenting established facts The book includes a wealth of lesson plans that connect abstract STEM ideas to realistic experiences that students encounter Sample lessons call on students to produce drawings and models that move STEM to STEAM Grounded in popular film and the 31 books most read by adolescent students the text includes teaching strategies found to be effective with traditionally underserved students and those with disabilities Book Features Standards based STEM lessons are interrelated and interwoven with writing reading speaking and other skills Practical ideas and hands on activities for engaging adolescents in both traditional and virtual environments Guidance for working with diverse populations such as students with different abilities culturally and linguistic diverse students translingual students and transnational students Includes full lessons templates and handouts

Nabokov's Favorite Word Is Mauve Ben Blatt, 2017-03-14 Blatt brings big data to the literary canon exploring the wealth of fun findings that remain hidden in the works of the world's greatest writers He assembles a database of thousands of books and hundreds of millions of words and starts asking the questions that have intrigued curious word nerds and book lovers for generations What are our favorite authors favorite words Do men and women write differently Are bestsellers getting dumber over time Which bestselling writer uses the most clichés What makes a great opening sentence How can we judge a book by its cover And which writerly advice is worth following or ignoring Amazon.com Talking through Reading and Writing Daniel Rose, Christine Walsh, 2020-11-11 In this book you will read many examples of rich literacy conversations between a teacher and his 8th grade students that never would have occurred face to face in the classroom These conversations take place online when 8th graders write to their teacher about the books they're interested in reading and choosing to read independently Students write about what happens when they read or don't read how they feel about reading how they're connecting with characters and ideas why they don't have enough time to read and what their reading goals are And their teacher writes back to them Every week After each conversation you will read some meta talk that shines a light on what the conversation has taught us about this language learner and how this data is informing our beliefs and practices Embedded within the chapters are suggested resources articles book recommendations links websites blogs etc you can follow should you want to read more in that chapter What these students reveal about their own literacy development their successes their challenges their lives and how their teacher nudges them along socially emotionally and academically teach us the value and power of one practical authentic literacy tool the Reading Conversation Journal

Worlds Gone Awry John J. Han, C. Clark Triplett, Ashley G. Anthony, 2018-08-22 Dystopian fiction captivates us by depicting future worlds at once eerily similar and shockingly foreign to our own This collection of new essays presents some of the most recent scholarship on a genre whose popularity has surged dramatically since the 1990s Contributors explore such novels as The Lord of the Flies The Heart Goes Last The Giver and The Strain Trilogy as social critique revealing how they appeal to the same impulse as utopian fiction the desire for an idealized yet illusory society in which evil is purged and justice prevails

Teaching Literature with Artificial Intelligence Eric D. Abrams, 2025-09-15 Teaching Literature with Artificial Intelligence explores the use of chatbots as participants in the teaching and learning of literature in high school and college classrooms while highlighting potentially outmoded norms and expectations of ELA instruction Artificial intelligence programs have profoundly altered the daily realities of teachers and students inspiring concern and opportunity alike Thought provoking theoretically grounded and full of replicable autoethnographic experiments this book offers real world examples of generative chatbot technologies in ELA classrooms positioning their accessibility and ubiquity as an incentive for critiquing and enriching traditional teaching and learning approaches Graduate students teaching faculty and scholars of teacher education English and literature education digital literacies and learning design will come away with a sharp critique of the purported affordances of chatbots as well as an incisive demonstration of AI as a classroom tool that supports rather than diminishes the meaningful learning critical thinking and agentive development of young people today
