Painting Design Getting Essence Picture Making:

Making Theory/Constructing Art Daniel Alan Herwitz, Daniel Herwitz, 1996-05-15 Artists and critics regularly enlist theory in the creation and assessment of artworks but few have scrutinized the art theories themselves Here Daniel examines and critiques the norms assumptions historical conditions and institutions that have framed the development and uses of art theory Spurred by the theoretical claims of Arthur Danto a leader in the philosophy of the avant garde Herwitz reexamines the art and theory of major figures in the avant garde movement including John Cage Jean Fran ois Lyotard Jean Baudrillard and Andy Warhol

Making Theory/Constructing Art Daniel Herwitz, 1993-11 Artists and critics regularly enlist theory in their creation and assessment of artworks but few have scrutinized the art theories themselves Making Theory Constructing Art On the Authority of the Avant Garde is among the first philosophical texts to provide a close encounter with this theoretical tendency in twentieth century art and aesthetics exploring the norms assumptions historical conditions and institutions that have framed the development and uses of theory in art In a series of intricate readings of constructivism Mondrian and John Cage Daniel Herwitz outlines the avant garde s belief that theory can perfectly prefigure the avant garde art object and invest it with utopian force Through similarly insightful treatments of Arthur Danto Andy Warhol Jean Francois Lyotard Jean Baudrillard and postmodern art and theory Herwitz demonstrates how the contemporary art world is heir to the avant garde s theoretical assumptions and practices In fact avant garde art objects live as art only by partly resisting the master theories of their makers and interpreters Skillfully resisting the lure of grand theory himself Herwitz urges the art world to be more self critical and self reflective about its uses of theory Making Theory Constructing Art is as accessible and entertainingly written as it is philosophically incisive Since the book is both a philosophical and a cultural encounter with theory in twentieth century art it will engage all those who have tried to grapple with the inscrutability of the theoretical art muse

Making Art History Elizabeth Mansfield, 2014-05-01 Making Art History is a collection of essays by contemporary scholars on the practice and theory of art history as it responds to institutions as diverse as art galleries and museums publishing houses and universities school boards and professional organizations political parties and multinational corporations The text is split into four thematic sections each of which begins with a short introduction from the editor the sections include Border Patrols addresses the artistic canon and its relationship to the ongoing war on terror globalization and the rise of the Belgian nationalist party The Subjects of Art History questions whether art and history are really what the discipline seeks to understand Instituting Art History concerns art history and its relation to the university and raises questions about the mission habits ethics and limits of university today Old Master New Institutions shows how art history and the museum respond to nationalism corporate management models and the culture wars

The Art of Human Living Michael H. Mitias, 2025-09-05 How should I live How should I love How should I die These three questions stream into human consciousness from the womb of a more urgent question What makes my life worth living or justifiable What if one stands at the last frontier of their life and casts a look at the way they lived it Can they leave the world with a feeling of inner peace and pride in the way they lived it The author of this book argues that a life worth living should originate from the depth of the human essence from the power that makes us human How This question demands an urgent answer because first human life is a thrust into the future which we cannot predict and second it is short Should we not care about the way we live since it is the most valuable possession we have in this world How many people regret the way they lived when they reach the end of their lives Should we not wonder why we exist and how we should live our lives An inquiry into his question is an inquiry into the foundation of a life worth living What are the building blocks of this foundation The author further argues that living this kind of life is an art He draws a parallel between artistic creation and self creation An authentic or fulfilled life is an art of human living In what sense is the human being a self created being Under what conditions can one learn this art

Maritain's Ontology of the Work of Art J.W. Hanke, 2012-12-06 I Since the appearance in 1902 of Benedetto Croce's L'estetica come scienza dell'espressione e linguistica generale the problem of the ontology of the work of art or aesthetic object what kind of thing it is and what its mode of being is has come to occupy a central place in the philosophy of art Moreover a particular conception of the identity of art objects is at present a driving force in some quarters of the art world itself As Harold Rosenberg so well points out Minimalist or Reductive Art has attempted sometimes quite self consciously to establish the autonomous physical reality of the work of art by emptying it of all expressive and representational content What is the ontological problem One rather crude way of stating it is to ask where the work of art or object of aesthetic contemplation exists Is it to pick some examples to be identified with the material product of the artist's labors which exists spatially outside of and independently of artist and beholder Or does it exist only in the mind of the beholder or the artist Is it either one perception of a beholder or a series of his perceptions Or is it the class of all perceptions of either all spectators or all qualified spectators Put another way it would be a question of whether and to what such purported names as Beethoven's Fifth Symphony refer Essays in a Pluralistic Art World Arthur C. Danto, 2001-09-04 Danto writes about the contemporary art to be seen in museums and galleries placing it in the context of the history of modern art and of current debates about essential ideas in our society In-Between: Architectural Drawing and Imaginative Knowledge in Islamic and Western Traditions Hooman Koliji, 2016-03-09

Contemporary technical architectural drawings in establishing a direct relationship between the drawing and its object tend to privilege the visible physical world at the expense of the invisible intangible ideas and concepts including that of the designer's imagination As a result drawing may become a utilitarian tool for documentation devoid of any meaningful value in terms of a kind of knowledge that could potentially link the visible and invisible This book argues that design drawings should be recognized as intermediaries mediating between the world of ideas and the world of things spanning the intangible and tangible The notion of the Imaginal as an intermediary between the invisible and visible is discussed showing how architectural drawings lend themselves to this notion by performing as creative agents contributing not only to the physical world but also penetrating the realm of concepts The book argues that this in-between quality to architectural drawing is essential and that it is critical to perceive drawings as subtle bodies that hold physical attributes for example form proportion color highly evocative yet with no matter Focusing on Islamic geometric architectural drawings both historical and contemporary it draws on key philosophical and conceptual notions of imagination from the Islamic tradition as these relate to the creative act In doing so this book not only makes important insights into the design process and act of architectural representation but more broadly it adds to debates on philosophies of the imagination linking both Western and Islamic traditions Heidegger toward the Turn James Risser, 1999-08-26 Leading figures in Heidegger scholarship critically reflect on the dominant topics of Heidegger's thought during the 1930s
