Reclaiming Karbala Epsita Halder,2023-05-18 Analysing an extensive range of texts and publications across multiple genres formats and literary lineages Reclaiming Karbala studies the emergence and formation of a viable Muslim identity in Bengal over the late 19th century through the 1940s Beginning with an explanation of the tenets of the battle of Karbala this multi layered study explores what it means to be Muslim as well as the nuanced relationship between religion linguistic identity and literary modernity that marks both Bengali and Muslimness in the region This book is an intervention into the literature on regional Islam in Bengal offering a complex perspective on the polemic on religion and language in the formation of a jatiya Bengali Muslim identity in a multilingual context This book by placing this polemic in the context of intra Islamic reformist conflict shows how all these rival reformist groups unanimously negated the Karbala centric commemorative ritual of Muharram and Sh intercessory piety to secure a pro Caliphate sensibility as the core value of the Bengali Muslim public sphere Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1973 Beginning with 1953 entries for Motion pictures and filmstrips Music and phonorecords form separate parts of the Library of Congress catalogue Entries for Maps and atlases were issued separately 1953 1955 Literature and Politics in the Age of Nationalism Talat

Ahmed,2020-11-29 This book aims to provide a historical account of the All India Progressive Writers Association AIPWA In a structured narrative it focuses on the political processes inside India events and circumstances in South Asia and the debates and literary movements in Europe and the United States to demonstrate how the literary project was specifically informed by literary political movements It explores the theorisation of literature and politics that informed progressive writing and argues that the progressive conception of literature art and politics was closer to the theorisation of two thinkers of whom the writers themselves knew very little Leon Trotsky and Antonio Gramsci The book charts the progressive movement s extension into the cultural arena through the Indian People s Theatre Association IPTA and the deepening of its nation wide character through a progressive nationalism instilled with left wing ideology One of the important aims of the AIPWA project was to advance the development of a popular vernacular based on the demotic language of north India Hindustani The book locates this issue within the broader nationalist discussion on the national language Contrary to what is implied by much of the previous scholarship the book argues that the progressive movement did survive the ravages of partition and that the progressives maintained organisations in both India and Pakistan It looks at the short lived but very colourful history of the PWA in Pakistan using PWA documents government records and personal testimonies Arguing that literary output and cultural production cannot be understood let alone interpreted outside the context of the nationalist movement war independence and partition the book presents a narrative that necessarily transcends disciplinary boundaries between literature politics and history Supplemented with literary and archival sources and oral testimonies from the members of the movement it pr
