Poetry and Revelation Kevin Hart, 2017-04-20 Religious poetry has often been regarded as minor poetry and dismissed in large part because poetry is taken to require direct experience whereas religious poetry is taken to be based on faith that is on second or third hand experience The best methods of thinking about experience are given to us by phenomenology Poetry and Revelation is the first study of religious poetry through a phenomenological lens one that works with the distinction between manifestation in which everything is made manifest and revelation in which the mystery is re veiled as well as revealed Providing a phenomenological investigation of a wide range of religious poems some medieval some modern some written in English others written in European languages some from America some from Britain and some from Australia Kevin Hart provides a unique new way of thinking about religious poetry and the nature of revelation itself

Ideology & Form in African Poetry Emmanuel Ngara, 1990 Emmanuel Ngara evaluates the ability of poets to communicate with their readers His two studies of style and ideology in novels from Africa have made a considerable impact He has now used the same technique to help students come to terms with the demanding question of poetic style From back cover

Of Revelation and Revolution, Volume 2 John L. Comaroff, Jean Comaroff, 2009-02-15 In the second of a proposed three volume study John and Jean Comaroff continue their exploration of colonial evangelism and modernity in South Africa Moving beyond the opening moments of the encounter between the British Nonconformist missions and the Southern Tswana peoples Of Revelation and Revolution Volume II explores the complex transactions both epic and ordinary among the various dramatis personae along this colonial frontier The Comaroffs trace many of the major themes of twentieth century South African history back to these formative encounters The relationship between the British evangelists and the Southern Tswana engendered complex exchanges of goods signs and cultural markers that shaped not only African existence but also bourgeois modernity back home in England We see in this volume how the colonial attempt to civilize Africa set in motion a dialectical process that refashioned the everyday lives of all those drawn into its purview creating hybrid cultural forms and potent global forces which persist in the postcolonial age This fascinating study shows how the initiatives of the colonial missions collided with local traditions giving rise to new cultural practices new patterns of production and consumption new senses of style and beauty and new forms of class distinction and ethnicity As noted by reviewers of the first volume the Comaroffs have succeeded in providing a model for the study of colonial encounters By insisting on its dialectical nature they demonstrate that colonialism can no longer be seen as a one sided relationship between the conquering and the conquered It is rather a complex system of reciprocal determinations one whose legacy is very much with us today
