along with illustrations Soldiers' Lives through History - The Ancient World Richard A. Gabriel, 2006-11-30 Once warfare became established in ancient civilizations it's hard to find any other social institution that developed as quickly. In less than a thousand years humans brought forth the sword, sling, dagger, mace, bronze and copper weapons and fortified towns. The next thousand years saw the emergence of iron weapons, the chariot, the standing professional army, military academies, general staffs, military training, permanent arms industries, written texts on tactics, military procurement, logistics systems, conscription and military pay. By 2,000 B.C.E. war was an important institution in almost all major cultures of the world. This book shows readers how soldiers were recruited, outfitted, how they fought and how they were cared for when injured or when they died. It covers soldiers in major civilizations from about 4000 B.C.E. to about 450 C.E. Topics are discussed cross-culturally, drawing examples from several of the cultures, armies and time periods within each chapter in order to provide the reader with as comprehensive an understanding as possible and to avoid the usual Western-centric perspective too common in analyses of ancient warfare.

Educational Media Resources on Egypt University of Michigan. Audio-Visual Education Center, 1977 Ancient Egypt Alan B. Lloyd, 2014-06 In Ancient Egypt: State and Society Alan B. Lloyd attempts to define, analyse and evaluate the institutional and ideological systems which empowered and sustained one of the most successful civilizations of the ancient world for a period in excess of three and a half millennia. The volume adopts the premise that all societies are the product of a continuous dialogue with their physical context, understood in the broadest sense and that in order to achieve a successful symbiosis with this context they develop an interlocking set of systems defined by historians, archaeologists and anthropologists as culture. Culture therefore can be described as the sum total of the methods employed by a group of human beings to achieve some measure of control over their environment. Covering the entirety of the civilization and featuring a large number of up-to-date translations of original Egyptian texts, Ancient Egypt focuses on the main aspects of Egyptian culture which gave the society its particular character and endeavours to establish what allowed the Egyptians to maintain that character for an extraordinary length of time despite enduring cultural shock of many different kinds.

Ancient Non-Greek Rhetorics Carol S. Lipson, Roberta A. Binkley, 2009-04-03 Ancient Non-Greek Rhetorics contributes to the recovery and understanding of ancient rhetorics in non-Western cultures and other cultures that developed independently of classical Greco-Roman models. Contributors analyze facets of the rhetorics as embedded within the particular cultures of ancient China, Egypt, Mesopotamia, the ancient Near East, more generally Israel, Japan, India and ancient Ireland.

Akhenaten Dominic Montserrat, 2014-05-01 The pharaoh Akhenaten, who ruled Egypt in the mid-fourteenth century BCE, has been the subject of more speculation than any other character in Egyptian history. This provocative new biography examines both the real Akhenaten and the myths that have been created around him. It scrutinises the history of the pharaoh and his reign, which has been continually written in Eurocentric terms inapplicable to ancient Egypt and the archaeology of Akhenaten's capital city, Amarna. It goes on to explore the pharaoh's extraordinary cultural afterlife and the way he has been invoked to validate everything from psychoanalysis to racial equality to Fascism Going to School in the Middle East and North Africa Kwabena D. Ofori-Attah, 2008-07-30 The Middle East and North Africa are constantly in the news due to political turmoil and it is difficult for students in those countries to attend school and live the life of a child or teenager What is it really like This volume traces the history of education in countries of the Middle East and North African region identifying the types of education available for different genders and social classes and how race ethnicity and gender affect education for those students Primary Secondary and Post Secondary educational opportunities are examined along with curriculum and teaching methods Major reforms and philosophies are also presented Countries included are Algeria Morocco Tunisia Egypt Libya Saudi Arabia Iran Iraq Israel Jordan Syria Lebanon Why Did Ancient Civilizations Fail? Scott A J Johnson, 2016-09-19 Ideas abound as to why certain complex societies collapsed in the past including environmental change subsistence failure fluctuating social structure and lack of adaptability Why Did Ancient Civilizations Fail evaluates the current theories in this important topic and discusses why they offer only partial explanations of the failure of past civilizations This engaging book offers a new theory of collapse that of social hubris Through an examination of Mesopotamian Egyptian Roman Maya Inca and Aztec societies Johnson persuasively argues that hubris blinded many ancient peoples to evidence that would have allowed them to adapt and he further considers how this has implications for contemporary societies Comprehensive and well written this volume serves as an ideal text for undergraduate courses on ancient complex societies as well as appealing to the scholar interested in societal collapse
