Purely Alaska Authentic Voices From The Far North:

Red Thunder David Matheson, 2010-11 Steeped in authentic cultural traditions and spiritual beliefs this rich and wonderful historical novel follows the times and trials of a family band of the Schi tsu umsh Indians now called the Coeur d Alene Tribe in northern Idaho Through a boy named Sun Bear and his sister Rainbow Girl the band's oral stories are told as it struggles to hold onto what is precious and sacred about life

THE ALASKAN James Oliver Curwood, 2024-01-16 In The Alaskan James Oliver Curwood crafts a vivid narrative set against the breathtaking backdrop of Alaska's wilderness This novel intertwines adventure and romance centering on the life of an intrepid protagonist whose struggles reflect both the beauty and brutality of nature Curwood employs a lyrical prose style rich in descriptive imagery while addressing themes of survival human endeavor and the profound connection between man and the environment The book captures the zeitgeist of the early 20th century a period marked by exploration and a burgeoning interest in the untamed frontiers of North America Curwood an American author and conservationist was deeply influenced by his extensive travels and experiences in the northern wilderness His firsthand encounters with the harsh realities of nature and its untold beauty informed his writing imbuing it with authenticity and passion Curwood's commitment to environmental preservation is evident throughout his work inspiring readers to recognize the grandeur and fragility of the natural world This novel is highly recommended for readers who appreciate adventure and the intricacies of human relationships set against an exotic landscape The Alaskan invites the reader to embark on a journey not only through the landscapes of Alaska but also through the human spirit's resilience in the face of nature's challenges

White Women Getting Real About Race Judith M. James, Nancy Peterson, 2023-07-03 For many White women teachers and teachers in training who represent the majority of our teaching force today the issue of race is fraught with discomfort It may challenge assumptions evoke a sense of guilt or give rise to a fear of making mistakes or saying the wrong thing This book presents the first person stories of White women teachers who tell us not only how they have grappled with race in diverse classrooms but how they continue to this day to be challenged by issues of color and privilege These are no stories of heroic feats or achievement of perfection but stories of self disclosure that lay bare their authors' emotions ideas curiosity vulnerability and reflections as they engaged with race and challenged practices of color blindness and empathetic distance Avoiding abstract educational lingo these teachers come clean about the emotional cost of dealing with racism White privilege and fear of being racist in our rapidly diversifying schools Admitting their cultural mistakes they hope their readers can find a safe place to use theirs for honest dialogue and positive learning In approaching chapter authors for this book the editors asked the writers to ask themselves Will my well being and sense of self be at risk if I tell this story Recognizing what's at stake they wanted writers who would be real with themselves The women in this book hope that their stories will resonate with readers help them feel less alone and give them courage to begin a dialogue with colleagues friends staff and administrators around race concerns Each chapter concludes with a few questions to prompt self reflection at home or for use as exercises to use in small groups or staff development training we may find ourselves longing for silence But what is silence exactly Is it the total absence of sound Or is it the absence of the sound created by humans the kind of deep stillness you might experience in a remote mountain landscape covered in snow far away from the bustle of human life When we listen closely silence reveals a neglected reality Neither empty nor singular silence is instead plentiful and multiple In this book eco acoustic historian J r me Sueur allows us to discover a vast landscape of silences which trigger the full gamut of our emotions anxiety awe and peace He takes us from vistas resplendent with full and rich natural silences to the everyday silence of predators as they stalk their prey To explore silences in animal behaviour and ecology is to discover a counterpoint to the acoustic diversity of the natural world throwing into sharp relief the grating reverberations of the human activity which threatens it It is to attune ourselves to a world that our human insensitivities have closed off to us to take a moment simply to breathe and listen to the place of silence in nature
