Secured Transactions Law Reform Louise Gullifer, Orkun Akseli, 2016-10-20 Secured transactions law has been subjected to a close scrutiny over the last two decades One of the main reasons for this is the importance of availability of credit and the consequent need to reform collateral laws in order to improve access to finance The ability to give security effectively influences not only the cost of credit but also in some cases whether credit will be available at all This requires rules that are transparent and readily accessible to non lawyers as well as rules that recognise the needs of small and medium sized enterprises This book critically engages with the challenges posed by inefficient secured credit laws It offers a comparative analysis of the reasons and the needs for a secured transactions law reform as well as discussion of the steps taken in many common law civil law and mixed law jurisdictions The book written under the auspices of the Secured Transactions Law Reform Project informs the debate about reform and advances novel arguments written by world renowned experts that will build upon the existing literature and as such will be of interest to academics legal practitioners and the judiciary involved in secured transactions law around the world The text considers reform initiatives that have taken place up to the end of April 2016 It has not been possible to incorporate events since then into the discussion However notable developments include the banks decree passed by the Italian Government on 29th June 2016 and the adoption of the Model Law on Secured Transactions by UNCITRAL on 1st July 2016 Banking Law and Financial Regulation in the UK and EU

Spanish legal systems this comparative study includes extensive references to other EU Member States The influence of EU private law on this area is also explored The implications of a harmonised regime for personal security rights in the EU are analysed both from an economic and a legal perspective In this context specific reference is made to the latest academic works and policy proposals for EU legal unification Principles of European Contract Law Draft Common Frame of Reference

The Future of Commercial Law Orkun Akseli, John Linarelli, 2020-04-16 The reform of commercial law through harmonisation unification codification and other means remains one of the most important projects in developing the institutional architecture for the global economy This edited collection engages with the challenges and contributes to a greater understanding of the problems faced by states international organisations and private sector actors in this ongoing reform project for commercial law The volume takes stock of the project to date and looks towards a restructuring of the agenda to deal with new challenges The primary aim of the collection is to understand the future of commercial law reform in a way that offers ideas and strategies for innovation as well as in methodologies for project selection and evaluation In so doing the collection informs the debate on the global reform of commercial law and will be of interest not only to academics but also to those involved in the reform of commercial law around the world The volume collects papers presented at the UK Society of Legal Scholars Annual Seminar 2017
