Draft Environmental, Section 4(f) Statement ,1971 U.S. Highway 89, Browning to Hudson Bay Divide, Section 4(f) Evaluation ,2004 Managing Environmental Justice Dennis Pavlich,2010 Environmental justice is the subtext of this collection of anxieties around the need for a sustainable future on Planet Earth Thinkers and scholars from a diversity of backgrounds reflect on what it means and how cultures must change to greet this future From Romania to Mexico Bosnia to Canada Sweden to California authors analyze and recount community experiences and expectations leading to justice for land sea air and wildlife The kind of ethical weltanschauung for a society in which this kind of justice is achievable is suggested The collection points to the myriad of single instance decisions that we must all make in living our daily lives whether in our homes workplaces or leisure time From good policies to sound management governments corporations and community based organizations will find prudent praxis from cover to cover , Environmental Activism, Social Media, and Protest in China Elizabeth Brunner,2019-07-05 Environmental Activism Social Media and Protest in China Becoming Activists over Wild Public Networks builds upon existing social movement scholarship in communication studies China studies and sociology by analyzing China s vibrant contemporary environmental protests Using news reports social media feeds and conversations with witnesses and participants in the protests Elizabeth Brunner examines three important antiparaxylene PX protests the 2007 protests in Xiamen the 2011 protests in Dalian and the 2014 protests in Maoming Brunner argues for the treatment of protests as forces majeure and asserts the legitimacy of wild public networks Brunner stresses that scholars must take a networked approach to social movements as new media become valid platforms for furthering social change especially in areas where censorship is common Resources in Education ,1998

Environmental Science , Action Learning Wojciech W. Gasparski,2017-11-30 Praxiology is the study of working and doing from the point of view of effectiveness It has three components analysis of concepts involving purposive actions critique of modes of action from the viewpoint of efficiency and normative advisory aspects in recommendations for increasing human efficacy This sixth volume of the Praxiology series focuses on action learning Learning from distinguishable action is surprisingly different than learning from a subject expert in human or book form For those who have worked with and in action learning the latest form is always distinguishably different from a former experience Action learning programs are not in general intended to tackle puzzles namely questions to which an answer may be said to exist even if that answer is difficult to find action learning is intended to help to develop the ability to tackle problems or opportunities of which different persons all experienced intelligent and motivated might well advocate different courses of action all reasonable The essentials of action learning according to this volume are there can be no learning unless the participant receives feedback about his/her performance participants learn only of their own volition and never at the will of others the volition to learn is most readily engendered by the lure of success or by the fear of calamity Building upon these essentials the authors view action learning as a process of inquiry beginning with the experience of not knowing what to do next and finding that an answer is not available from current expertise All chapters in this volume are sound contributions to the continuing debate on the processes of learning from distinguishable action Action Learning is intriguing reading for sociologists philosophers managers and researchers of all disciplines
