Selling Sex Selling Sex:

Selling Sex Emily Van der Meulen, Elya M. Durisin, Victoria Love, 2013 Despite being dubbed the world's oldest profession prostitution has rarely been viewed as a legitimate form of labour. Instead it has been criminalized, sensationalized and polemicized across the socio-political spectrum by everyone from politicians to journalists to women's groups. Interest in and concern over sex work is not grounded in the lived realities of those who work in the industry but rather in inflammatory ideas about who is participating, how they wound up in this line of work and what form it takes. In Selling Sex Emily van der Meulen, Elya M. Durisin and Victoria Love present a more nuanced, balanced and realistic view of the sex industry. They bring together a vast collection of voices including researchers, feminists, academics and advocates as well as sex workers of differing ages, genders and sectors to engage in a dialogue that challenges the dominant narratives surrounding the sex industry and advances the idea that sex work is in fact work. Presenting a variety of opinions and perspectives on such diverse topics as the social stigma of sex work, police violence, labour organizing, anti-prostitution feminism, human trafficking and harm reduction Selling Sex is an eye-opening, challenging and necessary book. Selling Sex in Kenya Eglė Česnulytė, 2019-11-28 As Kenyan women traditionally have fewer formal employment opportunities, often occupying lower paid jobs in the informal sector, the experiences of women who earn money in unorthodox ways can offer revealing insights into the agency of women and its limits. Grounded in the narratives and life stories of women selling sex in Kenya, Eglė Česnulytė reveals the range of gendered and gendering effects that neoliberal policies have on everyday socio-political realities. By contextualising and historicising contemporary debates in the field, this important interdisciplinary study explores the societal structures that neo-liberal narratives and reforms influence, their gendered effects and the extent to which individuals must internalise neoliberal economic logics in order to make or improve their living. In so doing, Česnulytė counters the prevailing male-dominated studies in political science to place women and female-based narratives at the forefront.

Selling Sex on Screen Karen A. Ritzenhoff, Catriona McAvoy, 2015-07-16 Whether in mainstream or independent films, depictions of female prostitution and promiscuity are complicated by their intersection with male fantasies. In such films, issues of exploitation, fidelity and profitability are often introduced into the narrative where sex and power become commodities traded between men and women. In Selling Sex on Screen: From Weimar Cinema to Zombie Porn, Karen A. Ritzenhoff and Catriona McAvoy have assembled essays that explore the representation of women and sexual transactions in film and television. Included in these discussions are the films Breakfast at Tiffany's, Eyes Wide Shut, L.A. Confidential, Pandora's Box and Shame, and such programs as Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Gigolos. By exploring the themes of class differences and female economic independence, the chapters go beyond textual analysis and consider politics, censorship, social trends, laws, race and technology as well as sexual and gender stereotypes. By exploring this complex subject, Selling Sex on Screen offers a spectrum of representations of desire and sexuality through the moving image. This volume will be of interest not only to students and scholars of film but also researchers in gender studies women s studies criminology sociology film studies adaptation studies and popular culture

Men Who Sell Sex Peter Aggleton, Richard Parker, 2014-11-13 All over the world men as well as women exchange sex for money and other forms of reward sometimes with other men and sometimes with women In contrast to female prostitution however relatively little is known about male sex work leaving questions unanswered about the individuals involved their identities and self understandings the practices concerned and the contexts in which they take place This book updates the ground breaking 1998 volume of the same name with an entirely new selection of chapters exploring health social political economic and human rights issues in relation to men who sell sex Looking at Europe North America Latin America and the Caribbean Africa and the Asia Pacific each chapter explores questions such as What is known about the different ways in which men exchange sex for money or other forms of reward What are the major contexts in which sexual exchange takes place What meanings do such practices carry for the different partners involved What are the health and other implications of contemporary forms of male sex work Men Who Sell Sex seeks to push the boundaries both of current personal and social understandings and the practices to which these give rise It is an important reference work for academics and researchers interested in sex work and men s health including those working in public health sociology social work anthropology human geography and development studies

Regulating sex for sale Phoenix, Jo, 2009-09-23 Recent years have seen a quiet revolution in the way that the sex industry is regulated and governed The consensus around what the problems of prostitution are has broken down and in its place a plethora of contradictory themes has emerged Regulating sex for sale examines the total package of reforms and proposals that have been introduced in this area since May 2000 Bringing together some of the most well known writers researchers and practitioners in the field it provides a detailed analysis and critical reflection on the processes assumptions and contradictions shaping the UK s emerging prostitution policy What are the unintended consequences of recent policies and how do they impact on the populations that they regulate Do they contain any possibility for radical intervention and or new ways of governing prostitution The book describes the impact these policies have on indoor sex workers street based sex workers young people men or those with drug misuse issues It also looks at the assumptions made by policy makers about the various constituencies affected including the communities in which sex work takes place This is the first book to address the contradictions in current policy on prostitution in England and Wales and will be of interest to academics postgraduate students and policy makers in criminal justice as well as in other areas including children and young people community safety and urban studies Sex Work on the Streets Neil P.

McKeganey, Marina Barnard, 1996 How and why do people sell and buy sex What are the risks associated with prostitution Should prostitution be legalized This book is the most detailed study ever provided on street prostitution It is based on three years research in which the authors interviewed prostitutes and their clients and spent many months working in a red light area The book makes extensive use of direct quotes from the women and the men as well as fieldnotes from the authors based upon their observations in the red light area Topics covered in the book include the women s negotiations with clients HIV drug use and violence The book also describes the impact of working as a prostitute on women s home life No attempt is made to moralise about prostitution in the book instead the authors concentrate on the experiences of the women and men involved in selling and buying sex and describe prostitution from their standpoint Sex Work on the Streets will be of interest to a wide range of students and researchers in sociology social policy criminology and women s studies Selling Sex Raelene Frances, 2007 Provides a history of prostitution in Australia from before European colonisation and situates this history within an international context of labour migration and policy formation This work draws on archival research and interviews to chart the ways in which prostitution contributed to women s economic survival and to colonisation
