Quality Improvement Research Understanding The Science Of Change In Health Care:

Quality Improvement Research Richard Grol, Richard W. Baker, Fiona Moss, 2003-11-21 Quality improvement in health care is now a stated objective of health services worldwide yet effective delivery is not always apparent This book discusses research methods that should help to improve the delivery of quality Handbook of Headache Paolo Martelletti, Timothy J. Steiner, 2011-08-14 Headache disorders are among the most common disorders of the nervous system They are pandemic and in many cases they are recurrent and can accompany the patient for the whole life These disorders impose a substantial burden on headache sufferers on their families and on society the individual impact is measured by the frequency and severity of attacks while the societal burden is measured in terms of loss of activity at work and school as well as of costs for the health system As a matter of fact headaches are ranked in the top ten and maybe the top five causes of disability worldwide they are therefore extraordinarily common Population based studies have mostly focused on migraine which even if it is the most frequently studied headache disorder is not the most common Other types of headache such as the more prevalent TTH and sub types of the more disabling chronic daily headache have so far received less attention and need to be better investigated This book will provide a useful tool to a wide medical population who is required specific skills to diagnose and manage these frequent and often disabling disorders Furthermore it could also represent a compendium for medical students who are usually introduced to this topic through multidisciplinary university programmes

Advancing Quality Improvement Research Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Care Services, Forum on the Science of Health Care Quality Improvement and Implementation, 2007-07-29 The Institute of Medicine's Forum on the Science of Health Care Quality Improvement and Implementation held a workshop on January 16 2007 in Washington DC The workshop had its roots in an earlier forum meeting when forum members discussed what is meant by the terms quality improvement and implementation science and became convinced that they mean different things to different people At the time the members also discussed the need to identify barriers to quality improvement research and to implementation science Thus the purpose of this workshop was to bring people together from various arenas to discuss what quality improvement is and what barriers exist in the health care industry to quality improvement and also to research about quality improvement The summary that ensues is thus limited to the presentations and discussions during the workshop itself We realize that there is a broader scope of issues pertaining to this subject area but are unable to address them in this summary document The workshop s first session was devoted to experiences that various institutions have had with quality improvement Recognizing the wealth of experiences available outside of health care services the workshop included presenters from outside the health care service industry as well as from inside This includes discussions from a variety of perspectives non health care services health plans hospitals and nursing Advancing Quality Improvement Research Challenges and opportunities Workshop Summary describes the events of the workshop
