Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis An Integrated Approach:

Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Valerie Belton, Theodor Stewart, 2002 The field of multiple criteria decision analysis MCDA also sometimes termed multiple criteria decision aid or multiple criteria decision making MCDM has developed rapidly over the past quarter century and in the process a number of divergent schools of thought have emerged Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis An Integrated Approach provides a comprehensive yet widely accessible overview of the main streams of thought within MCDA Two principal aims are To provide sufficient awareness of the underlying philosophies and theories understanding of the practical detail of the methods and insight into practice to enable researchers students and industry practitioners to implement MCDA methods in an informed manner To develop an integrated view of MCDA incorporating both integration of different schools of thought within MCDA and integration of MCDA with broader management theory science and practice thereby informing the development of theory and practice across these areas It is felt that this two fold emphasis gives a book which will be of value to the following three groups Practicing decision analysts or graduate students in MCDA for whom this book should serve as a state of the art review especially as regards techniques outside of their own specialization Operational researchers or graduate students in OR MS who wish to extend their knowledge into the tools of MCDA Managers or management students who need to understand what MCDA can offer them

Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Valerie Belton, Theodor J. Stewart, 2002 Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Valerie Belton, 2002 Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis: State of the Art Surveys Salvatore Greco, 2006-01-20 Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis State of the Art Surveys provides survey articles and references of the seminal or state of the art research on MCDA The material covered ranges from the foundations of MCDA over various MCDA methodologies outranking methods multiattribute utility and value theories non classical approaches to multiobjective mathematical programming MCDA applications and software This vast amount of material is organized in 8 parts with a total of 25 chapters More than 2000 references are listed Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Salvatore Greco, Matthias Ehrgott, José Rui Figueira, 2016-02-18 In two volumes this new edition presents the state of the art in Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis MCDA Reflecting the explosive growth in the field seen during the last several years the editors not only present surveys of the foundations of MCDA but look as well at many new areas and new applications Individual chapter authors are among the most prestigious names in MCDA research and combined their chapters bring the field completely up to date Part I of the book considers the history and current state of MCDA with surveys that cover the early history of MCDA and an overview that discusses the pre theoretical assumptions of MCDA Part II then presents the foundations of MCDA with individual chapters that provide a very exhaustive review of preference modeling along with a chapter devoted to the axiomatic basis of the different models that multiple criteria preferences Part III looks at outranking methods with three chapters that consider the ELECTRE methods PROMETHEE methods and a look at the rich literature of other outranking methods Part IV on

Sustainability as a Multi-criteria Concept Luis Diaz-Balteiro, Jacinto González-Pachón, Carlos Romero, 2020-11-23 Sustainability is a fairly old concept born in the 18th century in the field of forestry within a mono functionality perspective The concept has considerably evolved in the last few years towards a multi functionality context with applications reported in practically all areas of economic interest On the other hand modern sustainability is a complex problem for two reasons a The multiplicity of functions of a very different nature involved in the process and b The manner in which different segments of the society or stakeholders perceive the relative importance of these functions For the above reasons a realistic approach for dealing with the sustainability issue requires taking into consideration multiple criteria of different nature economic environmental and social and in many cases within a participatory decision making framework This book presents a collection of papers dealing with different theoretical and applied issues of sustainability with the help of a modern multi criteria decision making theory with a single as well as several stakeholders involved in the decision making process Hopefully this material will encourage academics and practitioners to alter their research in this hot and vital topic After all the sustainable management of the environment and its embedded resources is one of the most important if not the major challenge of the 21st century

Decision Analysis for Management Judgment Paul Goodwin, George Wright, 2014-05-12 Decision Analysis for Management Judgment is unique in its breadth of coverage of decision analysis methods It covers both the psychological problems that are associated with unaided managerial decision making and the decision analysis methods designed to overcome them It is presented and explained in a clear straightforward manner without using mathematical notation This latest edition has been fully revised and updated and includes a number of changes to reflect the latest developments in the field

Trends in Multiple Criteria Decision Analysis Salvatore Greco, Matthias Ehrgott, José Rui Figueira, 2010-09-10 Multiple Criteria Decision Making MCDM is the study of methods and procedures by which concerns about multiple conflicting criteria can be formally incorporated into the management planning process A key area of research in OR MS MCDM is now being applied in many new areas including GIS systems AI and group decision making This volume is in effect the third in a series of Springer books by these editors all in the ISOR series and it brings all the latest developments in MCDM into focus Looking at developments in the applications methodologies and foundations of MCDM it presents research from leaders in the field on such topics as Problem Structuring Methodologies Measurement Theory and MCDA Recent Developments in Evolutionary Multiobjective Optimization Habitual Domains and Dynamic MCDM in Changeable Spaces Stochastic Multicriteria Acceptability Analysis and many more chapters

Multi-Criteria Decision Analysis Igor Linkov, Emily Moberg, 2011-10-24 Environmental management is often complicated and multidisciplinary and the issues that arise can be difficult to solve analytically Often decision makers take ad hoc approaches which may result in the ignoring of important stakeholder opinions or decision criteria Multi criteria decision analysis MCDA provides a framework by which these types of decisions can be made but despite being used effectively in many fields it is not often used in environmental management Given the novelty and inherent applicability of this decision making framework to the environmental field there is a need for more teaching tools for MCDA In particular there is a need for a case study based approach to help readers navigate the many MCDA methods and decide how to apply them to a specific case Through a collection of case studies Multi Criteria Decision Analysis Environmental Applications and Case Studies gives readers the tools to apply cutting edge MCDA methods to their own environmental projects It offers an overview of the types of MCDA available and a conceptual framework of how it is applied with the focus on its applicability for environmental science Taking an in depth look at the case of sediment management the book introduces different steps of MCDA processes from problem formulation and model development to criteria weighing and alternative scoring The authors then explore the case using various MCDA methods which allows readers to see clearly how the methodologies differ and gain a better understanding of the mechanistic operation of the analysis A series of case studies in nanotechnology collectively demonstrate the application of MCDA in situations of high variability and uncertainty that require the integration of technical information and expert judgment an area where MCDA clearly shines The authors describe multiple decisions from risk classification to value of information analysis to the assessment of potential research and funding investments that readers may face in dealing with emerging environmental threats Demonstrating the broad applicability of MCDA methods for different types of cases the book presents a series of case studies ranging from oyster restoration to oil spill response In conjunction with these cases the book also provides corresponding decision models that are implemented by the DECERNS software and allow users to examine the same case using multiple MCDA tools The DECERNS software and models are available for download at www.crcpress.com Intended both as a research and teaching tool this book inspires creative thinking when applying MCDA to complicated environmental issues

Managing Critical Infrastructure Risks Igor Linkov, Richard J. Wenning, Gregory A.

Kiker,2007-09-17 This book offers a state of the science approach to current environmental security threats and infrastructure vulnerabilities It emphasizes beliefs that the convergence of seemingly disparate viewpoints and often uncertain and limited information is possible only by using one or more available risk assessment methodologies and decision making tools such as risk assessment and multi criteria decision analysis MCDA
