Murder I Write True Tales Of Jealousy Betrayal And Revenge:

Rainy River Lives Maggie Wilson, 2009-05-01 Rainy River Lives is the long lost collection of stories of Ojibwe men and women as told by a hitherto unpublished traditional Ojibwe storyteller Maggie Wilson 1879 1940 Wilson lived on the Manitou Rapids Reserve on the Rainy River which flows along the Ontario Minnesota border When anthropologist Ruth Landes arrived at Rainy River to conduct her doctoral research in 1932 Wilson often worked with the young scholar telling her many stories Their relationship continued after Landes returned to Columbia University During the following decades however the letters and stories Wilson had sent Landes which Landes had carefully collected were lost Only recently were they discovered in the basement of the Smithsonian Institution where they had been misfiled with papers of another anthropologist This rich set of narratives takes us inside the intimate world of Ojibwe families at the turn of the twentieth century a time of great upheaval when the Ojibwes were being relocated onto reserves and required by the government to abandon their seasonal migrations and subsistence activities These remarkably detailed stories of ordinary Native people precisely through their everyday character reveal much about Ojibwe cultural beliefs and paint a nuanced ethnographic portrait of Ojibwe life In the distinctive voice of an exceptional and highly creative individual the stories address both the culturally specific world of the Ojibwes and universal human themes of love loss and perseverance

The Psychology of Love and Hate in Intimate Relationships Katherine Aumer, 2016-06-23 Social psychology has made great advancements in understanding how our romantic relationships function and to some extent dissolve However the social and behavioral sciences in much of western scholarship often focus exclusively on the more positive aspects of intimate relationships and less so on more controversial or unconventional aspects The goal of this volume is to explore and illuminate some of these underrepresented aspects aspects such as non monogamy female orgasm sadism and hate that often function alongside love in intimate relationships Ultimately by looking at intimate relationships in this way the volume contributes to and advocates for a more holistic and comprehensive view of intimate relationships Throughout the volume contributors from social clinical and evolutionary psychology cover love and hate from a variety of sometimes opposing perspectives The first section covers love and the changing landscape of intimate relationships Its chapters review the current literature and research of understudied topics like non monogamy female orgasm sexual fantasies and the viewpoint of love as something other than positive The second section explores hate and how hate can operate in intimate relationships for example the appearance of sadistic behavior and debates the nature of hate as either a motivation or emotion The volume concludes by looking at ways in which the appearance of hate in relationships can be dealt with and overcome successfully Taken together these two sections reflect the full variety of experiences within intimate relationships With the aim of exploring how love and hate can and frequently do work together The Psychology of Love and Hate in Intimate Relationships is a fascinating psychological exploration of intimate relationships in modern times It is an invaluable resource to academics and students specializing in psychology gender and sociology including clinicians and therapists and all those interested in increasing our knowledge of intimate relationships

Exiting Violence Debora Tonelli, Gerard Michael J. Mannion, 2024-06-04 In the 20th and 21st centuries where violence has scarred countless lives the interplay between religion politics and conflict remains a complex web Exiting Violence looks to untangle some of these knots showing not only how faith can ignite bloodshed but also how it can inspire peace and build bridges Resulting from an international collaboration between the Fondazione Bruno Kessler RESET Dialogues Among Civilizations and the Berkley Center for Religion Peace and World Affairs this collection assesses the state of scholarship and explores the differing ways in which religion can contribute to societies and communities exiting situations of violence and hatred From Biblical hermeneutics to Buddhism from secularism to legal systems Exiting Violence offers a nuanced and thought provoking exploration of the multifaceted role religion plays in the human struggle for peace and justice
