Music Technology and Education Andrew Brown, 2014-12-05 Music Technology in Education lays out the principles of music technology and how they can be used to enhance musical teaching and learning in primary and secondary education. Previously published as Computers in Music Education, this second edition has been streamlined to focus on the needs of today's music education student. It has been completely updated to reflect mobile technologies, social networks, rich media environments, and other technological advances. Topics include Basic audio concepts and recording techniques, Enhanced music instruction with interactive systems, web-based media platforms, social networking, and musicianship software. Administration and management of technology resources, Distance education and flexible learning. Music Technology in Education provides a strong theoretical and philosophical framework for examining the use of technology in music education while outlining the tools and techniques for implementation in the classroom. Reflective Questions, Teaching Tips, and Suggested Tasks link technology with effective teaching practice. The companion website provides resources for deeper investigation into the topics covered in each chapter and includes an annotated bibliography, website links, tutorials, and model projects.

Computers in Music Education Andrew R. Brown, 2007 Publisher description Music, Technology, and Education Andrew King, Evangelos Himonides, 2016-06-10 The use of technology in music and education can no longer be described as a recent development. Music learners actively engage with technology in their music making regardless of the opportunities afforded to them in formal settings. This volume draws together critical perspectives in three overarching areas in which technology is used to support music education: music production, game technology, musical creation, experience, and understanding. The fourteen chapters reflect the emerging field of the study of technology in music from a pedagogical perspective. Contributions come not only from music pedagogues but also from musicologists, composers, and performers working at the forefront of the domain. The authors examine pedagogical practice in the recording studio, how game technology relates to musical creation and expression, the use of technology to create and assess musical compositions, and how technology can foster learning within the field of Special Educational Needs (SEN). In addition, the use of technology in musical performance is examined with a particular focus on the current trends and the ways it might be reshaped for use within performance practice. This book will be of value to educators, practitioners, musicologists, composers, and performers as well as to scholars with an interest in the critical study of how technology is used effectively in music and music education.
