My Canadian Memories (Classic Reprint) S. Macnaughtan, 2015-07-12 Excerpt from My Canadian Memories Miss Macnaughtan had visited Canada just before the Great War and was busily engaged upon writing her experiences in the new country which had impressed her so much when the cataclysm of the war burst upon Europe She at once volunteered for service though she was not young and was far from strong With the heroic little band of English nurses at Antwerp and in the battered corner of Belgium which continued to hold out against the Germans she laboured devotedly till June 1915 when she came home to lecture on the war to the munition workers In October of that year she left for Russia with an ambulance party her keen sympathy having been aroused by the news that the Russian wounded were getting no nurses The little unit got as far as Persia where Miss Macnaughtan was taken seriously ill She struggled back how no one ever really knew all the long way from Teheran to her own home in Norfolk Street where she lingered through some summer days till she passed away on July 24 1916 I had had the privilege of knowing Miss Macnaughtan intimately and when the unfinished book was found among her MSS I was asked to edit it having previously written a short history of Canada and being interested in everything Canadian About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Pierre Berton Brian McKillop, 2011-06-22 The first ever biography of one of Canada s best known and most colourful personalities by an award winning author From his northern childhood on it was clear that Pierre Berton 1920 2004 was different from his peers Over the course of his eighty four years he would become the most famous Canadian media figure of his time in newspapers magazines radio television and books sometimes all at once Berton dominated bookstore shelves for almost half a century winning Governor General s Awards for Klondike and The Last Spike among many others along with a dozen honorary degrees Throughout it all Berton was larger than life full of verve and ideas he approached everything he did with passion humour and an insatiable curiosity He loved controversy and being the centre of attention and provoked national debate on subjects as wide ranging as religion and marijuana use A major voice of Canadian nationalism at the dawn of globalization he made Canadians take interest in their own history and become proud of it But he had his critics too and some considered him egocentric and mean spirited Now with the same meticulous research and storytelling skill that earned him wide critical acclaim for The Spinster and the Prophet Brian McKillop traces Pierre Berton s remarkable life with special emphasis on his early days and his rise to prominence The result is a comprehensive vivid portrait of the life and work of one of our most celebrated national figures Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 The Newfoundland Diaspora Jennifer Bowering Delisle,2013-06-01 Out migration driven by high unemployment and a floundering economy has been a defining aspect of Newfoundland society for well over a century and it reached new heights with the cod moratorium in 1992 This Newfoundland diaspora has had a profound impact on the province s literature Many writers and scholars have referred to Newfoundland out migration as a diaspora but few have examined the theoretical implications of applying this contested term to a predominantly inter provincial movement of mainly white economically motivated migrants The Newfoundland Diaspora argues that diaspora helpfully references the painful displacement of a group whose members continue to identify with each other and with the homeland It examines important literary works of the Newfoundland diaspora including the poetry of E J Pratt the drama of David French the fiction of Donna Morrissey and Wayne Johnston and the memoirs of David Macfarlane These works are the sites of a broad inquiry into the theoretical flashpoints of affect diasporic authenticity nationalism race and ethnicity The literature of the Newfoundland diaspora both contributes to and responds to critical movements in Canadian literature and culture querying the place of regional national and ethnic affiliations in a literature drawn along the borders of the nation state This diaspora plays a part in defining Canada even as it looks beyond the borders of Canada as a literary community
