Performance Analysis for Public and Nonprofit Organizations XiaoHu Wang, 2010 The book focuses on application of performance analysis tools not the theory of performance management This text is an effective learning tool for students in analytical technique courses in public administration and policy programs With other texts students may learn about a statistical concept and calculation but still don't understand the managerial context where the statistical tool applies Consequently they often fail to understand the managerial importance of statistical tools they learn and worse fail to recognize the correct tool to use when a managerial issue rises This book corrects this problem by providing a managerial context that bridges statistical concepts and the managerial reality The managerial context is performance management in which performance data are presented monitored and analyzed It is in this performance management context that the usefulness and applicability of statistical tools are illuminated for the learner BOOK JACKET Design of Video Quality

Metrics with Multi-Way Data Analysis Christian Keimel, 2015-12-29 This book proposes a data driven methodology using multi way data analysis for the design of video quality metrics It also enables video quality metrics to be created using arbitrary features This data driven design approach not only requires no detailed knowledge of the human visual system but also allows a proper consideration of the temporal nature of video using a three way prediction model corresponding to the three way structure of video Using two simple example metrics the author demonstrates not only that this purely data driven approach outperforms state of the art video quality metrics which are often optimized for specific properties of the human visual system but also that multi way data analysis methods outperform the combination of two way data analysis methods and temporal pooling can be viewed as a theatrical performance. Focusing on the dramatic aspects of suicide may seem tangential to the physical and mental pain experienced by those who try to kill themselves but dramatic aspects often provide important clues for understanding the mental state of suicidal individuals. David Lester and Steven Stack investigate what happens in the weeks, days, and hours before a suicide when the suicidal individual must make decisions and formulate the script for his or her suicidal act. The editors argue that these choices may help us understand and prevent other suicides and stimulate new and innovative research in this important area. Through twenty-five substantive chapters including both quantitative and qualitative analyses, this book offers insights into suicide as a dramatic act with chapters on the intended audience, the suicide note, the location and method chosen, and cultural scripts including suicide by cop, sati, seppuku, and duels. The contributors to this volume argue that psychological, social, and cultural factors influence these choices and that the decisions made by the individual are important for understanding the mental state of the person choosing to die by suicide.
