Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01 In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910 40 in Cuba 1959 89 and in Nicaragua 1979 90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement s artistic project by whom how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution s attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were In addition the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art ideology and class within a revolutionary process

Cosmopolitanism in Mexican Visual Culture María Fernández, 2014-01-06 Since the colonial era Mexican art has emerged from an ongoing process of negotiation between the local and the global which frequently involves invention synthesis and transformation of diverse discursive and artistic traditions In this pathfinding book Mar a Fern ndez uses the concept of cosmopolitanism to explore this important aspect of Mexican art in which visual culture and power relations unite the local and the global the national and the international the universal and the particular She argues that in Mexico as in other colonized regions colonization constructed power dynamics and forms of violence that persisted in the independent nation state Accordingly Fern ndez presents not only the visual qualities of objects but also the discourses ideas desires and practices that are fundamental to the very existence of visual objects Fern ndez organizes episodes in the history of Mexican art and architecture ranging from the seventeenth century to the end of the twentieth century around the consistent but unacknowledged historical theme of cosmopolitanism allowing readers to discern relationships among various historical periods and works that are new and yet simultaneously dependent on their predecessors She uses case studies of art and architecture produced in response to government commissions to demonstrate that established visual forms and meanings in Mexican art reflect and inform desires expectations memories and ways of being in the world in short that visual culture and cosmopolitanism are fundamental to processes of subjectification and identity
