Muraqqa Imperial Mughal Albums From The Chester Beatty Library:

Muraqqa', 2008 Muraqqa' Imperial Mughal Albums from the Chester Beatty Library, Dublin Elaine Julia Wright, Susan Stronge, 2008 Albums that record their lives and the world around them created in the years 1600-1657 for the emperors Jahangir and Shah Jahan The Mughal dynasty ruled India for more than three centuries but the period of greatest artistic production was that of these two great emperors and the albums of paintings and calligraphy called muraqqa in Persian that they assembled now serve as a window to understanding the history and culture of this important period of Indian history The paintings in the albums include formal often symbolic portraits of the emperors themselves depictions of members of the royal family in relaxed private settings portraits of courtiers Sufi saints and mystics genre scenes and natural history subjects The Art of Cloth in Mughal India Sylvia Houghteling, 2022-03-29 When a rich man in seventeenth century South Asia enjoyed a peaceful night's sleep he imagined himself enveloped in a velvet sleep In the poetic imagination of the time the fine dew of early evening was like a thin cotton cloth from Bengal and woolen shawls of downy pashmina sent by the Mughal emperors to their trusted noblemen approximated the soft hand of the ruler on the vassal's shoulder Textiles in seventeenth century South Asia represented more than cloth to their makers and users They simulated sensory experience from natural environmental conditions to intimate personal touch The Art of Cloth in Mughal India is the first art historical account of South Asian textiles from the early modern era Author Sylvia Houghteling resurrects a truth that seventeenth century world citizens knew but which has been forgotten in the modern era South Asian cloth ranked among the highest forms of art in the global hierarchy of luxury goods and had a major impact on culture and communication While studies abound in economic history about the global trade in Indian textiles that flourished from the seventeenth to the nineteenth centuries they rarely engage with the material itself and are less concerned with the artistic and much less the literary and social significance of the taste for cloth This book is richly illustrated with images of textiles garments and paintings that are held in little known collections and have rarely if ever been published Rather than rely solely on records of European trading companies Houghteling draws upon poetry in local languages and integrates archival research from unpublished royal Indian inventories to tell a new history of this material culture one with a far more balanced view of its manufacture and use as well as its purchase and trade Faces of God: Images of Devotion in Indo-Muslim Painting, 1500-1800 Murad Khan Mumtaz, 2023-08-28 Islamic art is often misrepresented as an iconophobic tradition As a result of this assumption the polyvalence of figural artworks made for South Asian Muslim audiences has remained hidden in plain view This book situates manuscript illustrations and album paintings within cultures of devotion and ritual shaped by Islamic intellectual and religious histories Central to this story are the Mughal siblings Jahanara Begum and Dara Shikoh and their Sufi guide Mulla Shah Through detailed art historical analysis supported by new translations this study contextualizes artworks made for Indo-Muslim patrons by putting them into direct dialogue with written testimonies Jāmī in Regional Contexts Thibaut

d'Hubert, Alexandre Papas, 2018-11-26 J m in Regional Contexts The Reception of Abd Al Ra m n J m s Works in the Islamicate World is the first attempt to present in a comprehensive manner how Abd al Ra m n J m d 898 1492 a most influential figure in the Persian speaking world reshaped the canons of Islamic mysticism literature and poetry and how in turn this new canon prompted the formation of regional traditions As a result a renewed geography of intellectual practices emerges as well as questions surrounding authorship and authority in the making of vernacular cultures Specialists of Persian Arabic Chinese Georgian Malay Pashto Sanskrit Urdu Turkish and Bengali thus provide a unique connected account of the conception and reception of J m s works throughout the Eurasian continent and maritime Southeast Asia Curating Worlds Emma

Bond, 2024-12-15 Showing how museum practices shed new light on literary form How and why do books deploy objects in order to narrate the past To answer this question Emma Bond sifts through collections of objects stored in boxes drawers baskets and displayed on shelves in contemporary texts by authors such as Valeria Luiselli Maaza Mengiste Orhan Pamuk and Olga Tokarczuk and interprets them using a framework of museum practices These practices which include collection curation conservation and display have helped to turn real life museums into three dimensional narrative spaces Curating Worlds Museum Practices in Contemporary Literature shows how we can use this same set of practices to shed light on literary form itself how stories are created shaped and communicated Harnessing museum practices as an innovative lens for critical interpretation Bond provides a fresh theoretical framework to engage with the meanings of object collections in literature and to make sense of the lives and afterlives of things today Envisioning Islamic Art and Architecture
