Muslim Legal Thought In Modern Indonesia:

Muslim Legal Thought in Modern Indonesia R. Michael Feener, 2007-08-30 Indonesia has been home to some of the most vibrant and complex developments in modern Islamic thought anywhere in the world Nevertheless little is known or understood about these developments outside South East Asia By considering the work of the leading Indonesian thinkers of the twentieth century Michael Feener an intellectual authority in the area offers a cogent critique of this diverse and extensive literature and sheds light on the contemporary debates and the dynamics of Islamic reform The book highlights the openness to and creative manipulation of diverse strands of international thought that have come to define Islamic intellectualism in modern Indonesia This is an accessible and interpretive overview of the religious and social thought of the world s largest Muslim majority nation As such it will be read by scholars of Islamic law and society South East Asian studies and comparative law and jurisprudence

Islamic Law in the Indian Ocean World Mahmood Kooria, Sanne Ravensbergen, 2021-09-23 This book explores the ways in which Muslim communities across the Indian Ocean world produced and shaped Islamic law and its texts ideas and practices in their local regional imperial national and transregional contexts With a focus on the production and transmission of Islamic law in the Indian Ocean the chapters in this book draw from and add to recent discourses on the legal histories and anthropologies of the Indian Ocean rim as well as to the conversations on global Islamic circulations By doing so this book argues for the importance of Islamic legal thoughts and practices of the so called peripheries to the core and kernel of Islamic traditions and the urgency of addressing their long existing role in the making of the historical and human experience of the religion Islamic law was and is not merely brought to but also produced in the Indian Ocean world through constant and critical engagements The book takes a long term and transregional perspective for a better understanding of the ways in which the oceanic Muslims have historically developed their religious juridical and intellectual traditions and continue to shape their lives within the frameworks of their religion Transregional and transdisciplinary in its approach this book will be of interest to scholars of Islamic Studies Indian Ocean Studies Legal History and Legal Anthropology Area Studies of South and Southeast Asia and East Africa

An Introduction to Islamic Law Wael B. Hallaq, 2009-07-09 The study of Islamic law can be a forbidding prospect for those entering the field for the first time Wael Hallaq a leading scholar and practitioner of Islamic law guides students through the intricacies of the subject in this absorbing introduction The first half of the book is devoted to a discussion of Islamic law in its pre modern natural habitat The second part explains how the law was transformed and ultimately dismantled during the colonial period In the final chapters the author charts recent developments and the struggles of the Islamists to negotiate changes which have seen the law emerge as a primarily textual entity focused on fixed punishments and ritual requirements The book which includes a chronology a glossary of key terms and lists of further reading will be the first stop for those who wish to understand the fundamentals of Islamic law its practices and history

Muslim Piety as Economy Johan

Fischer, J  r  my Jammes, 2019-10-11 The first volume to explore Muslim piety as a form of economy this book examines specific forms of production trade regulation consumption entrepreneurship and science that condition and are themselves conditioned by Islamic values logics and politics With a focus on Southeast Asia as a site of significant and diverse integration of Islam and the economy as well as the incompatibilities that can occur between the two it reveals the production of a Muslim piety as an economy in its own right Interdisciplinary in nature and based on in depth empirical studies the book considers issues such as the Qur'anic prohibition of corruption and anti corruption reforms the emergence of the Islamic economy under colonialism halal or lawful production trade regulation and consumption modesty in Islamic fashion marketing communications and financialisation consumerism and housing As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology and religious studies with interests in Islam and Southeast Asia Modern Islamic Thought in a Radical Age Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2012-10-15 This book explores some of the most fiercely debated issues facing the Islamic world today Islamic Law in Practice Mashood A. Baderin, 2017-03-02 Islamic law influences the lives of Muslims today as aspects of the law are applied as part of State law in different forms in many areas of the world This volume provides a much needed collection of articles that explore the complexities involved in the application of Islamic law within the contemporary legal systems of different countries today with particular reference to Saudi Arabia Morocco Indonesia Nigeria Turkey Malaysia and Pakistan The articles identify the relevant areas of difficulties and also propose possible ways of realising a more effective and equitable application of Islamic law in the contemporary world The volume features an introductory overview of the subject as well as a comprehensive bibliography to aid further research Boundaries of Toleration Alfred Stepan, Charles Taylor, 2014-02-11 How can people of diverse religious historical ethnic and linguistic allegiances and identities live together without committing violence inflicting suffering or oppressing each other Western civilization has long understood this dilemma as a question of toleration yet the logic of toleration and the logic of multicultural rights entrenchment are two very different things In this volume contributors suggest we also think beyond toleration to mutual respect practiced before the creation of modern multiculturalism in the West Salman Rushdie reflects on the once mutually tolerant Sufi Hindu culture of Kashmir Ira Katznelson follows with an intellectual history of toleration as a layered institution in the West and counsels against assuming we have transcended the need for such tolerance Charles Taylor advances a new approach to secularism in our multicultural world and Akeel Bilgrami responds by urging caution against making it difficult to condemn or make illegal dangerous forms of intolerance The political theorist Nadia Urbanati explores why the West did not pursue Cicero's humanist ideal of concord as a response to religious discord The volume concludes with a refutation of the claim that toleration was invented in the West and is alien to non Western cultures Contemporary Thought in the Muslim World Carool Kersten, 2019-06-17 This book presents an intellectual history of today's Muslim world surveying contemporary Muslim thinking in its various manifestations addressing a variety of themes that impact on the lives of present day Muslims Focusing on the period from roughly the late 1960s to the first decade of the twenty first century the book is global in its approach and offers an overview of different strands of thought and trends in the development of new ideas distinguishing between traditional reactionary and progressive approaches It presents a variety of themes and issues including The continuing relevance of the legacy of traditional Islamic learning as well as the use of reason the centrality of the Qur'an the spiritual concerns of contemporary Muslims political thought regarding secularity statehood and governance legal and ethical debates related current issues like human rights gender equality and religious plurality as well as globalization ecology and the environment bioethics and life sciences An alternative account of Islam and the Muslim world today counterbalancing narratives that emphasise politics and confrontations with the West this book is an essential resource for students and scholars of Islam

Law and Religion in Indonesia Melissa Crouch, 2013-11-12 Understanding and managing inter religious relations particularly between Muslims and Christians presents a challenge for states around the world This book investigates legal disputes between religious communities in the world's largest majority Muslim democratic country Indonesia It considers how the interaction between state and religion has influenced relations between religious communities in the transition to democracy The book presents original case studies based on empirical field research of court disputes in West Java a majority Muslim province with a history of radical Islam These include criminal court cases as well as cases of judicial review relating to disputes concerning religious education permits for religious buildings and the crime of blasphemy The book argues that the democratic law reform process has been influenced by radical Islamists because of the politicization of religion under democracy and the persistence of fears of Christianization It finds that disputes have been localized through the decentralization of power and exacerbated by the central government's ambivalent attitude towards radical Islamists who disregard the rule of law Examining the challenge facing governments to accommodate minorities and manage religious pluralism the book furthers understanding of state religion relations in the Muslim world This accessible and engaging book is of interest to students and scholars of law and society in Southeast Asia as well as Islam and the state and the legal regulation of religious diversity

Islam in Modern Thailand Rajeswary Ampalavanar Brown, 2013-10-01 This book addresses the complexity of Islam in Thailand by focusing on Islamic charities and institutions affiliated to the mosque By extrapolating through Islam and the waqf Islamic charity in different regions of Thailand the diversity in races and institutions it demonstrates the regional contrasts within Thai Islam The book also underlines the importance of the internal histories of these separate spaces and the processes by which institutions and ideologies become entrenched It goes on to look at the socio economic transformation that is taking place within the context of trading networks through Islamic institutions and civil networks linked to mosques madrasahs and regional power brokers Brown casts this study of private Islamic welfare as strengthening rather than weakening relations with the secular Thai state The current regime's effectiveness in coopting these Muslim elites including Lutfi and Wisoot into state bureaucracies assists in widening their popular base in the south in the north east and in Bangkok Such appointments were efficacious in reinforcing the elite s Islamic identity within a modern secular literate and cosmopolitan Thai culture In challenging existing studies of Thai Muslims as furtive protest minorities this book diverts our attention to how Islamic philanthropy provides the logic and dynamism behind the creation of autonomous spaces for these independent groups affording unusual insights into their economic political and social histories
