Road Policing And Technology Road Policing And Technology:

Road Policing and Technology Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee,2006-10-31 In 2005 traffic collisions killed 3 201 people with almost 29 000 seriously injured on British roads Although the level of road crash fatalities and injuries has fallen over successive decades and Britain has one of the safest road environments in the world the numbers still remain far too high and many of these casualties might have been avoided if there was a higher level of compliance with traffic law The Committee s report examines the road casualty problem focusing on the role of roads policing and the contribution which enforcement can make to casualty reduction It considers how technology is influencing the policing and enforcement of particular offences relating to speeding drink and drug driving driving whilst using a mobile phone and driving while impaired by fatigue The report finds that despite progress made by the Department for Transport against its 2010 casualty reduction targets the Home Office has continued to deny traffic law enforcement issues the priority it requires and must explicitly adopt the targets as a key part of its future national policing plans Investment and research into new technological equipment such as roadside breath testing equipment and time distance cameras and a higher profile and more visible traffic enforcement effort would bring important casualty reductions However the efficiencies which technology can bring should not be seen as a opportunity to cut the number of roads police officers as technology alone cannot carry out the multitude of functions undertaken by roads police officers Dictionary of Policing Tim Newburn,Peter Neyroud,2013-06-17 Covers the rapidly developing and increasingly professionalized field of contemporary policing with its new emphasis on skills standards and knowledge Roads of the Future Safer Future Road maintenance Prof. (Dr) Lalith Kumar Dharavath,2025-10-24 Working in Policing Ian Pepper,2011-08-01 Aimed at new recruits or HE students thinking about a career in policing this book provides a clear overview of and insight into the many and varied roles available From a neighbourhood police officer or a detective to a crime scene investigator gathering evidence or an analyst collating intelligence the book examines what each role entails the skills required and the best pathway to securing the job An extended case study runs through the book demonstrating how the different roles are involved in and contribute to a single investigation and self assessment questions relating to each role check the reader s understanding Introduction to Policing Michael Rowe,Liam Ralph,Ali Malik,2023-11-29 An extremely valuable source of reading information and guidance for my policing students It covers all the topical issues Johannes Oosthuizen Lecturer at Winchester University Introducing the definitive guide for students and professionals alike who want to gain a comprehensive understanding of policing in the 21st century This updated edition of Introduction to Policing reflects the latest developments in policing and offers a rigorous yet accessible overview of the historical origins and theories of policing the functions of police organisations and the challenges and controversies facing policing today With an emphasis on critical thinking and analysis Rowe encourages readers to consider different perspectives and to engage with key debates around policing such as who guards the guards and the implications of police culture helping them to develop a more nuanced understanding of this complex field The clear writing style engaging case studies and helpful study aids make this book an invaluable resource for students and professionals alike Key features include Revised and expanded discussion of racism and police culture and new coverage of the development of antiracist policing Updated examples reflecting contemporary criticisms of policing such as the cases of Sarah Everard and George Floyd Expanded discussion of key debates including the defund the police movement and the use of technology and digital policing including Smart Policing drones and body worn cameras Learning objectives key terms review questions and annotated further readings in every chapter will help you to engage with the material and consolidate your learning Michael Rowe is Professor of Criminology at Northumbria University Liam Ralph is Assistant Professor of Criminology at Northumbria University Ali Malik is Lecturer in Criminal Justice at University of Leeds

Police and International Peacekeeping Missions Garth den Heyer, James F. Albrecht, 2021-10-01 This edited volume examines the experiences and the roles of the police deployed on peacekeeping and intervention missions in Afghanistan Bougainville Cyprus Haiti Kosovo Namibia Solomon Islands Timor Leste and Ukraine Despite the extensive literature that has examined the role of the military in peacekeeping and intervention operations little literature or information that investigates the role and the work of the police or the methods that they use to assist in the reformation of local police is available This book provides an overview of the history and role of the police in peacekeeping missions and discusses the principle factors of police reform and development in post conflict nations It includes case studies assessing the background of the conflict and the police deployments as well as their role contributions and achievements Including two in depth surveys of police officer experiences on peacekeeping missions this volume will be of great value to policing researchers and law enforcement leadership police historians and students and researchers of post conflict development

Privacy, Technology, and the Criminal Process Andrew Roberts, Joe Purshouse, Jason Bosland, 2023-07-28 This collection considers the implications for privacy of the utilisation of new technologies in the criminal process In most modern liberal democratic states privacy is considered a basic right Many national constitutions and almost all international human rights instruments include some guarantee of privacy Yet privacy interests appear to have had relatively little influence on criminal justice policy making The threat that technology poses to these interests demands critical re evaluation of current law policy and practice This is provided by the contributions to this volume They offer legal criminological philosophical and comparative perspectives The book will be of interest to legal and criminological scholars and postgraduate students Its interdisciplinary methodology and focus on the intersection between law and technology make it also relevant for philosophers and those interested in science and technology studies
