Nelson, Katherine Kassouf Cummings, 2021-05-24 As we face an ever more fragmented world What Kind of Ancestor Do You Want to Be demands a return to the force of lineage to spiritual social and ecological connections across time It sparks a myriad of ageless yet urgent questions How will I be remembered What traditions do I want to continue What cycles do I want to break What new systems do I want to initiate for those yet to be born How do we endure Published in association with the Center for Humans and Nature and interweaving essays interviews and poetry this book brings together a thoughtful community of Indigenous and other voices including Linda Hogan Wendell Berry Winona LaDuke Vandana Shiva Robin Kimmerer and Wes Jackson to explore what we want to give to our descendants It is an offering to teachers who have come before and to those who will follow a tool for healing our relationships with ourselves with each other and with our most powerful ancestors the lands and waters that give and sustain all life The Turtle's Beating Heart Denise Low, 2017 Grandchildren meet their grandparents at the end Denise Low says as tragic figures We remember their decline and deaths The story we see as grandchildren is like a garden covered by snow just outlines visible Low brings to light deeply held secrets of Native ancestry as she recovers the life story of her

Kansas grandfather Frank Bruner 1889 1963 She remembers her childhood in Kansas where her grandparents remained at a distance personally and physically from their grandchildren despite living only a few miles away As an adult she comes to understand her grandfather's Delaware Lenape legacy of persecution and heroic survival in the southern plains of the early 1900s where the Ku Klux Klan attacked Native people along with other ethnic minorities As a result of such experiences the Bruner family fled to Kansas City and suppressed their non European ancestry as completely as possible As Low unravels this hidden family history of the Lenape diaspora she discovers the lasting impact of trauma and substance abuse the deep sense of loss and shame related to suppressed family emotions and the power of collective memory Low traveled extensively around Kansas tracking family history until she understood her grandfather's political activism and his healing heritage of connections to the land In this moving exploration of her grandfather's life the former poet laureate of Kansas evokes the beauty of the Flint Hills grasslands the hardships her grandfather endured and the continued discovery of his teachings

The Dream of a Broken Field Diane Glancy, 2011-07-01 The dream of a broken field is to bear crops The dream of a broken history is to create meaning to find among the fragments a way to tell the story of a life It is this dream that Diane Glancy pursues here through essays on writing faith family teaching and retirement Blending a poet's vision and a storyteller's voice the result is at once a virtuoso work of creative nonfiction and an exploration of that genre's outer limits by one of the foremost voices in Native American literature today Uneasily and yet firmly balanced between European and Native cultures English and German on her mother's side Cherokee on her father's Glancy continues to search for a language that articulates the Native experience with both the fullness of tradition and the lapses inherent in a broken heritage Accordingly The Dream of a Broken Field offers a narrative that pauses and circles connects and changes direction and travels great distances with grace only to stop sharply for a startling insight Writing of weekend trips and long journeys of natural landscapes and burial mounds of Native American cosmology and a Christian upbringing of Native American boarding schools and indigenous writers in American universities Glancy captures the opposing demands of a hurried life and the timeless reflections of a history forever unfolding

Life of Miracles Along the Yangtze and Mississippi Wang Ping, 2018-09-15 There are only two ways to live our life according to Albert Einstein one is as if nothing is a miracle the other as if everything is a miracle Life of Miracles along the Yangtze and Mississippi is a book about how the impossible became possible about things that happened in China and America to the people Wang Ping grew up with met and befriended along her journeys between these two distant rivers This is also a story about water alive with spirits and energy giving birth to all sentient beings We are water The river runs through us Those who live in harmony with water can ride the current of the universe the secret of Tao reaching all the way to the sea of miracles one story one droplet and one wave at a time A miracle is a state of mind a way of living how we face hardship pain and tragedies how we transform them into fuels for our journey and transcend them into joy and hope This is a book about how ordinary people perform miracles every day how we are touched touching all the time

across oceans and continents across time and space through our stories Body Geographic Barrie Jean Borich, 2019-05-15

A memoir from the award winning author of My Lesbian Husband Barrie Jean Borich's Body Geographic turns personal history into an inspired reflection on the points where place and person intersect where running away meets running toward and where dislocation means finding oneself One coordinate of Borich's story is Chicago the prototypical Great Lakes port city built by immigrants like her great grandfather Big Petar and the other is her own port of immigration Minneapolis the combined skylines of these two cities tattooed on Borich's own back Between Chicago and Minneapolis Borich maps her own Midwest a true heartland in which she measures the distance between the dreams and realities of her own life her family's and her fellow travelers in the endless American migration Covering rough terrain from the hardships of her immigrant ancestors to the travails of her often drunk young self longing to be madly awake in the world from the changing demographics of midwestern cities to the personal transformations of coming out and living as a lesbian Body Geographic is cartography of high literary order plotting routes real and imagined and putting an alternate landscape on the map
