Peripheral Visions Haiku Modern And Traditional:

Peripheral Visions Joyce Bradshaw, 2006-11 I was born in New Jersey but I now reside at the edge of the Texas hill country I have written poetry since first grade and it was my poetic mother who taught me to be as concise as possible in my writing In the past most of my poetry has been freestyle moderate in length Recently however I have taken brevity to new levels by composing a great many poems in the form of haiku Some of the verses follow the traditional form with its seasonal context while others are conceived in the more modern style The beautiful countryside that I see from my front porch displays the wonders of God's creation The simplicity of life in this location and the changing moods of the natural environment inspire the special thumbnail sketches that characterize haiku Peripheral Visions / Global Sounds José Colmeiro, 2017-06-23 Galician audio visual culture has experienced an unprecedented period of growth following the process of political and cultural devolution in post Franco Spain This creative explosion has occurred in a productive dialogue with global currents and with considerable projection beyond the geopolitical boundaries of the nation and the state but these seismic changes are only beginning to be the subject of attention of cultural and media studies This book examines contemporary audio visual production in Galicia as privileged channels through which modern Galician cultural identities have been imagined constructed and consumed both at home and abroad The cultural redefinition of Galicia in the global age is explored through different media texts popular music cinema video which cross established boundaries and deterritorialise new border zones where tradition and modernity dissolve generating creative tensions between the urban and the rural the local and the global the real and the imagined The book aims for the deperipheralization and deterritorialization of the Galician cultural map by overcoming long established hegemonic exclusions whether based on language discipline genre gender origins or territorial demarcation while aiming to disjoin the center periphery dichotomy that has relegated Galician culture to the margins In essence it is an attempt to resituate Galicia and Galician studies out of the periphery and open them to the world Peripheral Visions/global Sounds José F. Colmeiro, 2017 This book examines contemporary audio visual production in Galicia as privileged channels through which modern Galician cultural identities have been imagined constructed and consumed both at home and abroad Osip Mandelstam and the Modernist Creation of Tradition Clare Cavanagh, 1994-11-14 If modernism marked as some critics claim an apocalypse of cultural community then Osip Mandelstam 1891-1938 must rank among its most representative figures Born to Central European Jews in Warsaw on the cusp of the modern age he could claim neither Russian nor European traditions as his birthright Describing the poetic movement he helped to found Acmeism as a yearning for world culture he defined the impulse that charges his own poetry and prose Clare Cavanagh has written a sustained study placing Mandelstam's remembrance and invention of a usable poetic past in the context of modernist writing in general with particular attention to the work of T S Eliot and Ezra Pound Cavanagh traces Mandelstam's creation of tradition from his earliest lyrics to his last verses written shortly before his arrest and subsequent death in a Stalinist camp Her work shows how the poet generalizing from his own dilemmas and disruptions addressed his epoch's paradoxical legacy of disinheritance and how he responded to this unwelcome legacy with one of modernism's most complex ambitious and challenging visions of tradition Drawing on not only Russian and Western modernist writing and theory but also modern European Jewish culture Russian religious thought postrevolutionary politics and even silent film Cavanagh traces Mandelstam's recovery of a world culture vital vast and varied enough to satisfy the desires of the quintessential outcast modernist

Intermedial Art Practices as Cultural Resilience Lindsay Blair, Camille Manfredi, 2024-09-20 This innovative collection of essays is focused on the idea of transmedialization the ways that the traditional forms of the predominantly oral cultures of Scotland and Brittany poetry song and story can be transformed by the use of hybrid forms and new digital technologies The volume invites readers from a range of disciplines music art literature history cultural memory studies anthropology or media studies to consider how an intermedial aesthetics of the edge can enable these distinctive cultures to thrive The languages of both cultures are presently endangered and the essays seek to connect notions of language with a culture which can align its traditions with the concerns of the present day The collection proceeds from a conceptual analysis of poetry film peripheral vision and the concerns of peripheral communities to an examination of inventive practices in the film poem experimental video film portrait word image digitised music sound image and genre contestant narratives The collection also includes contributions from creative practitioners who utilize a range of hybrid forms to revitalize the traditional vernacular cultures of Scotland and Brittany The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history literature film studies media studies music cultural theory and philosophy
