Human Behavior in the Social Environment José B. Ashford, Craig W. LeCroy, Kathy L. Lortie, 2006 Ashford LeCroy and Lortie's ground breaking book offers students a balanced integrated introduction to human behavior in the social environment. Lively and comprehensive, this book succeeds by helping students connect foundation knowledge with practice concerns. Clarified through the introduction of study tables and concept maps at the end of each discussion, behavior in the development chapters, the authors look at biopsychosocial development across the life span using an integrative multidimensional approach, discussing integrative practice, theory, treatment, and services throughout. This multidimensional framework provides a concrete tool for the reader to assess human behavior from a perspective that truly reflects the values and knowledge base of the social work profession. Together, the book's solid coverage of foundation knowledge, integration of the biopsychosocial dimensions for assessing social functioning, its multidimensional framework, and its use of case studies to illuminate the applied aspects of HBSE content, along with the authors' consistent attention to diversity, successfully combine to give readers a meaningful, exciting experience.

Galician Migrations: A Case Study of Emerging Super-diversity Renée DePalma, Antía Pérez-Caramés, 2017-10-18 This focused case study analyses the roots of super diversity in a place where immigration is an emerging phenomenon: Northwestern Spain, Galicia. It is characterized by a mostly rural population, an aging demographic, and a historically depressed economy. Yet the region has recently experienced a significant increase in immigration, a reversal of the region's historically pronounced trend of emigration. To understand immigration in its early stages, this book takes a historical approach that focuses on diversities that go beyond nationality. It explores local yet international phenomena such as different patterns of return migration, transnational community, and familial relationships and niche labour markets. The book takes a broad interdisciplinary perspective, drawing on sociology, anthropology, history, sociolinguistics, literature, and education to provide a detailed case study analysis. While the case is specific, many other geographic regions will share some of the factors the book explores. Understanding how these factors interact will provide a useful point of contrast for analysing them in a range of other international contexts.

Perezhivanie, Emotions and Subjectivity Marilyn Fleer, Fernando González Rey, Nikolai Veresov, 2017-07-12 This book draws upon Vygotsky's idea of perezhivanie, emotions, and imagination and introduces the concepts of subjective sense and subjective configuration. These concepts are crucial for explaining and understanding children's development from a cultural-historical perspective. A book which theorises the relations between the social and the individual through a study of a child's perezhivanie, which analyses emotions more holistically and advances the concepts of subjective sense and subjective configuration, is much needed. This book examines the complexity of human development through a comprehensive elaboration of these concepts, allowing for new insights to be put forward. It doesn't always follow the chronological order of Vygotsky's publications, as many of his works remained in the family archives until the 1980s when his Selected Works were first published in Russian. There has long been a need for a contemporary book on the scholarly treatment of perezhevanie emotions and subjectivity and as such this book revisits dominant representations of these concepts and then puts forward new ways of conceptualising and using them in empirical research The chapters cover a broad range of case studies where the concepts of perezhivanie emotions and imagination and subjective sense and subjective configuration are used to give new empirical and theoretical insights into the study of human development Discourse, Ideology and Heritage Language Socialization Martin
