Literature, Performance, and Somaesthetics Katarzyna Lisowska, Jarosław Woźniak, 2017-05-11 Literature, Performance, and Somaesthetics views textual and extra textual worlds as intimately connected as forming a continuum in fact. The essays on literature, philosophy, and the arts gathered here derive their theoretical inspirations from two realms where embodiment and agency are particularly stressed, namely from philosophical somaesthetics, a discipline proposed by Richard Shusterman in 1999, and from performance studies, remarkable for its current expansion. In most general terms, the point of convergence for somaesthetics and performativity is their stressing the agency of the embodied and sentient human self. The contributors explore the question of agency in its various manifestations. They examine the construction of literary characters with emphasis on the representation of their corporeality and affectivity. They look into the problem of the formation of the literary canon as enacted rather than established and into literary history as retold rather than rewritten. They also focus on the problems of literary reception considering it on the physical visceral level. While showing keen interest in performance studies and somaesthetics, the authors also bring in the expertise gained in their primary fields of research. Hence the ideas explored in their essays are drawn from philosophy, literary theory, cultural studies, psychology and hard science. The essays here are concerned with a variety of generic forms: epic literature, lyrical poetry, tragedy, experimental novel, thriller, literary history, theological treatise, documentary, flamenco and opera, in order to outline the field in the humanities where literature, philosophy and performance can meet and where literary studies can benefit from the approaches offered by performance studies and philosophical somaesthetics.
