Cinema under National Reconstruction Hye Seung Chung, 2024-11-15 Cinema under National Reconstruction calls for a revisionist understanding of state film censorship during successive Cold War military regimes in South Korea 1961-1988 Drawing upon primary documents from the Korean Film Archive's digitized database and framing South Korean film censorship from a transnational perspective Hye Seung Chung makes the case that while political oppression repression existed inside and outside the film industry during this period film censorship was not simply a tool for authoritarian dictatorship Through such case studies as Yu Hyun-mok's The Stray Bullet 1961 Ha Kil-jong's The March of the

Fools 1975 and Yi Chang ho s Declaration of Fools 1983 the author defines censorship as a dialogical process of cultural negotiations wherein the state the film industry and the public fight out a battle over the definitions and functions of national cinema In the context of Cold War Korea one cannot fully understand or construct film history without reassessing censorship as a productive feedback system where both state regulators and filmmakers played active roles in shaping the new narrative or sentiment of the nation on the big screen
