Quarterly Essay 53 That Sinking Feeling:

That Sinking Feeling Paul Toohey, 2014-03-03 Paul Toohey searches for the solution our politicians have been unwilling or unable to find and asks whether amid the diplomatic turmoil we've now missed our chance Tony Abbott promised to stop the boats. With the help of Kevin Rudd's PNG solution he has. But at what cost. In Quarterly Essay 53 Paul Toohey tells the dramatic stories of asylum seekers heading from Java to Australia, investigates people smuggling and witnesses the aftermath of a sinking at sea. Toohey also examines Australian attitudes to boat people and what politicians have made of these. He assesses the diplomatic fall out from turning back boats and asks have we missed our chance for an Indonesian solution, a realistic alternative to the brutally effective system we now have. This is an unflinching look at people at their worst and best and most ruthless and most vulnerable by one of Australia's finest reporters. Any hope for a genuine regional solution rested with Indonesia, the final stepping stone to Australia. Why did neither Howard in his better times with Indonesia or Labor from 2007 seek a one on one solution with Indonesia. The Indonesian Solution. Those words would have been the most convincing political statement any Australian government could ever deliver to Australian voters on asylum seekers. Paul Toohey That Sinking Feeling. This issue contains correspondence relating to Lost in Translation by Linda Jaivin from Rowan Callick, Brian Nelson, Julie Rose, John Minford and Linda Jaivin. Border Security Peter Chambers, 2017-09-27 What kind of a world is one in which border security is understood as necessary. How is this transforming the shores of politics. And why does this seem to preclude a horizon of political justice for those affected. Border Security responds to these questions through an interdisciplinary exploration of border security politics and justice. Drawing empirically on the now notorious case of Australia, the book pursues a range of theoretical perspectives including Foucault's work on power, the systems theory of Niklas Luhmann and the cybernetic ethics of Heinz Von Foerster in order to formulate an account of the thoroughly constructed and political nature of border security. Through this detailed and critical engagement, the book's analysis elicits a political alternative to border security from within its own logic, thus signaling at least the beginnings of a way out of the cost, cruelty and devaluation of life that characterises the enforced reality of the world of border security. Emotions and Virtues in Feature Writing Jennifer Martin, 2021-03-22 This book provides an important and original way of understanding how journalists use emotion to communicate to readers, posing the deceptively simple question: how do journalists make us feel something when we read their work. Martin uses case studies of award-winning magazine style features to illuminate how some of the best writers of literary journalism give readers the gift of experiencing a range of perspectives and emotions in the telling of a single story. Part One of this book discusses the origins and development of narrative journalism and introduces a new theoretical framework, the Virtue Paradigm, and a new textual analysis tool, the Virtue Map. Part Two includes three case studies of prize-winning journalism demonstrating how the Virtue Paradigm and the Virtue Map provide fresh insight into narrative journalism and the ongoing conversation of what it means to live well together in community.

Make / Believe John Hartley, 2025-01-23 This book illustrates that mediated popular culture and science based knowledge systems entangled and compromised as both have become are still a robust crucible for system change for the future when they combine forces Planetary crises require responses from everyone This means that collective action is not simply a scientific or political problem It is a problem of culture and media But modern politics journalism and science were not designed for global climate action They've divided humans into competitive and often hostile we and they groups Identity news and knowledge are all weaponized Culture makes groups groups make knowledge and knowledge makes enemies What can be done to prevent global conflict and the drift to war Make Believe turns to popular culture and social media to argue for an alternative storyline While the Great Powers are making new enemies emergent classes led by children are using planetary connectivity to make new worlds A digital planet generates new kinds of strategic stories for pan human action based on difference intersectionality and cooperation for a sustainable Earth system Make Believe shows how alternatives to the Great Game of global contestation are gathering strength in unlikely places among women children lifestyle and pop culture Popular digital media literacy is now a prerequisite for the remediation of the planet

Cultural Literacy and Empathy in Education Practice Gabriel García Ochoa, Sarah McDonald, 2020-11-30 This book explores a new approach to cultural literacy Taking a pedagogical perspective it looks at the skills knowledge and abilities involved in understanding and interpreting cultural differences and proposes new ways of approaching such differences as sources of richness in intercultural and interdisciplinary collaborations Cultural Literacy and Empathy in Education Practice balances theory with practice providing practical examples for educators who wish to incorporate cultural literacy into their teaching The book includes case studies interviews with teachers and students and examples of exercises and assessments all backed by years of robust scholarly research

The Routledge Companion to World Literary Journalism John S. Bak, Bill Reynolds, 2022-12-30 This cutting edge research companion addresses our current understanding of literary journalism's global scope and evolution offering an immersive study of how different nations have experimented with and perfected the narrative journalistic form genre over time The Routledge Companion to World Literary Journalism demonstrates the genre's rich genealogy and global impact through a comprehensive study of its many traditions including the crónica the очерк reportage the New Journalism the New New Journalism Jornalismo literário periodismo narrativo bao gao wen xue creative nonfiction Literarischer Journalismus As SaHafa al Adabiyya and literary nonfiction Contributions from a diverse range of established and emerging scholars explore key issues such as the current role of literary journalism in countries radically affected by the print media crisis and the potential future of literary journalism both as a centerpiece to print media writ large and as an academic discipline universally recognized around the world The book also discusses literary journalism's responses to war immigration and censorship its many female and Indigenous authors and its digital footprints on the internet This extensive and authoritative collection is a vital resource for academics and researchers in literary journalism studies as well as in journalism studies and literature in general Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Fear of Abandonment Allan Gyngell, 2021-08-16 Updated edition covering Brexit Trump Xi's ambitions for China and the geopolitical implications of the COVID 19 pandemic Everything Australia wants to achieve as a country depends on its capacity to understand the world outside and to respond effectively to it In Fear of Abandonment expert and insider Allan Gyngell tells the story of how Australia has shaped the world and been shaped by it since it established an independent foreign policy during the dangerous days of 1942 Gyngell argues that the fear of being abandoned originally by Britain and later by our most powerful ally the United States has been an important driver of how Australia acts in the world Covering everything from the White Australia policy to the South China sea dispute this is a gripping and authoritative account of the way Australians and their governments have helped create the world we now inhabit in the twenty first century In revealing the history of Australian foreign affairs it lays the foundation for how it should change Today Australia confronts a more difficult set of international challenges than any we have faced since 1942 this new edition brings the story up to date Allan Gyngell is National President of the Australian Institute of International Affairs and an honorary professor at the Australian National University His long career in Australian international relations included appointments as director general of the Office of National Assessments and founding executive director of the Lowy Institute He worked as a diplomat policy officer and analyst in several government departments and as international adviser to Paul Keating He is the co author of Making Australian Foreign Policy and the author of Fear of Abandonment

Troubled Transit Antje Missbach, 2016-04-29 Troubled Transit considers the situation of asylum seekers stuck in limbo in Indonesia from a number of perspectives It presents not only the narratives of many transit migrants but also the perceptions of Indonesian authorities and of representatives of international and non government organizations responsible for the care of transiting asylum seekers Fascinated by the extraordinary and seemingly limitless resilience shown by asylum seekers during their often lengthy and dangerous journeys the author highlights one particular fragment of their journeys their time in Indonesia which many expect to be the last stepping stone to a new life While they long for their new life to unfold most asylum seekers become embroiled in the complexities of living in transit Indonesia a vast archipelago of more than 17 000 islands is more than a location where people spend time waiting it is a nation state that interacts with transiting asylum seekers and formulates policies that have a profound impact on their experience in transit there Troubled Transit tries to explain the complexities faced by the transiting migrants within the context of the Indonesian government and its political challenges including its relationship with Australia The Australia centric view of recent asylum seeker issues has tended to ignore the larger socio political context of the migratory routes and the perspectives of transit states towards asylum seekers stuck in transit This book hopes to direct the Australia centric gaze northwards to take Indonesian policies and policymaking into account thereby giving Indonesia more relevance as a transit country and as an important partner in regional protection schemes and migration management Even though some Indonesian policies and practices are less than favourable for asylum seekers and even reprehensible from a human rights perspective more attention must be paid to ongoing developments that impact on transiting asylum seekers in Indonesia if any of the hardships they suffer there are to be alleviated

Piracy in Southeast Asia Carolin Liss, Ted Biggs, 2016-11-25 This book combines multi disciplinary ethnographic and theoretical approaches to examine piracy in Southeast Asia and the regional and international responses to this threat During the piracy boom of the early to mid 2000s the issue of piracy in Southeast Asia received substantial academic attention Recent scholarship however has shifted the focus to Somali piracy and the resurgence of piracy in Southeast Asia has largely been neglected in the academic community This volume seeks to remedy this gap in the current literature The primary aim is to examine how piracy has evolved in Southeast Asia over the past ten years to address why piracy has re emerged as a security threat to evaluate efforts at maintaining security in regional waters and to offer an analysis of what might be expected in the next decade The contributions are drawn from academics policy makers and military officers covering a range of disciplines including international relations socio cultural anthropology security studies history law and Asian studies Taken together the contributions in this volume provide a better understanding of contemporary piracy in Southeast Asia and suggest avenues to successfully combat piracy in this region This book will be of much interest to students of maritime security Asian politics security studies and international relations in general

Quarterly Essay 58 Blood Year David Kilcullen, 2015-05-20 Last year was a blood year in the Middle East massacres and beheadings fallen cities collapsed and collapsing states the unravelling of a decade of Western strategy We saw the rise of ISIS the splintering of government in Iraq and foreign fighters many from Europe Australia and Africa flowing into Syria at a rate ten times that during the height of the Iraq War What went wrong In Blood Year David Kilcullen calls on twenty five years experience to answer that question This is a vivid urgent account of the War on Terror by someone who helped shape its strategy as well as witnessing its evolution on the ground Kilcullen looks to strategy and history to make sense of the crisis What are the roots and causes of the global jihad movement What is ISIS What threats does it pose to Australia What does its rise say about the effectiveness of the War on Terror since 9 11 and what does a coherent strategy look like after a disastrous year As things stand in mid 2015 Western countries face a larger more unified capable experienced and savage enemy in a less stable more fragmented region It isn't just ISIS al Qaeda has emerged from its eclipse and is back in the game in Afghanistan Pakistan India Syria and Yemen We're dealing with not one but two global terrorist organisations each with its own regional branches plus a vastly larger radicalised population at home and a massive flow of foreign fighters David Kilcullen Blood Year Winner of the 2015 Walkley Award for best long feature writing
