Queering Public Address Charles E. Queering Romantic Engagement in the Postal Age Pamela VanHaitsma, 2019-09-18 2020 Winifred Bryan Horner Book Award Honorable Mention from the Coalition of Feminist Scholars in the History of Rhetoric and Composition Romantic letters are central to understanding queer history Debates about letters of romantic friendship however too often reduce them to unstudied expressions of heartfelt feeling In Queering Romantic Engagement in the Postal Age Pamela VanHaitsma shows how the genre should be understood as a learned form of rhetoric VanHaitsma argues that epistolary instruction in the nineteenth century United States shaped civic engagement in predictably heteronormative ways even as it opened up possibilities for queer rhetorical practices Her archival study draws on writings whose authors diverse by gender race class and education all developed ways of queering cultural norms and generic conventions in their same sex relationships VanHaitsma theorizes a new concept of rhetorical education for romantic engagement to account for the significant yet understudied role of such training in inventing both civic and romantic life communication theory and will have an invaluable resource for future reference Violent Inheritance E

Cram, 2022-05-24 Violent Inheritance deepens the analysis of settler colonialism's endurance in the North American West and how infrastructures that ground sexual modernity are both reproduced and challenged by publics who have inherited them. E Cram redefines sexual modernity through extractivism wherein sexuality functions to extract value from life including land, air, minerals, and bodies. Analyzing struggles over memory cultures through the region's land use controversies at the turn of and well into the twentieth century, Cram unpacks the consequences of western settlement and the energy regimes that fueled it. Transfusing queer eco-criticism with archival and ethnographic research, Cram reconstructs the linkages, land lines between infrastructure, violence, sexuality, and energy and shows how racialized sexual knowledges cultivated settler colonial cultures of both innervation and enervation. From the residential school system to elite health seekers desiring the electric climates of the Rocky Mountains to the wartime incarceration of Japanese Americans, Cram demonstrates how the environment promised to some individuals access to vital energy and to others the exhaustion of populations through state violence and racial capitalism. Grappling with these land lines, Cram insists, helps interrogate regimes of value and build otherwise unrealized connections between queer studies and the environmental and energy humanities. Retroactivism in the Lesbian Archives

Jean Bessette, 2018 Winner 2018 Winifred Bryan Horner Outstanding Book Award. Grassroots historiography has been essential in shaping American sexual identities in the twentieth century. Retroactivism in the Lesbian Archives examines how lesbian collectives have employed retroactivist rhetorics to propel change in present identification and politics. By appropriating and composing versions of the past, these collectives question, challenge, deconstruct, and reinvent historical discourse itself to negotiate and contest lesbian identity. Bessette considers a diverse array of primary sources including grassroots newsletters, place-based archives, experimental documentary films, and digital video collections to investigate how retroactivists have revised and replaced dominant accounts of lesbian deviance. Her analysis reveals inventive rhetorical strategies leveraged by these rhetors to belie the alienating, dispersing effects of discourses that painted women with same-sex desire as diseased and criminal. Focusing on the Daughters of Bilitis, the Lesbian Herstory Archives, and the June L. Mazer Archives, and on historiographic filmmakers such as Barbara Hammer and Cheryl Dunye, Bessette argues that these retroactivists composed versions of a queer past that challenged then-present oppressions, joined together provisional communities, and disrupted static definitions and associations of lesbian identity. Retroactivism in the Lesbian Archives issues a challenge to feminist and queer scholars to acknowledge how historiographic rhetoric functions in defining and contesting identities and the historical forces that shape them. Transgender Communication Studies Jamie C.

Capuzza, Leland G. Spencer, 2015-02-05 Transgender Communication Studies: Histories, Trends, and Trajectories brings scholarship in transgender studies to the forefront of the communication discipline. Leland Spencer and Jamie Capuzza provide a broad foundation that documents the evolution of transgender communication studies and challenges fundamental assumptions about the relationship between communication and identity The contributors explore the political conditions these practices create for persons across the spectrum of gender identities and sexual orientations placing them in the subdisciplines of human communication media and public and rhetorical communication The collection also looks to the future of transgender research with suggestions and directives for continued work This comprehensive study inspires critical thinking about gender identity and transgender lives from within the vocabularies and methodologies of communication studies
