Questionable Creatures A Bestiary:

Questionable Creatures Pauline Baynes, 2006-06-30 Bestiaries are the most gloriously entertaining books to have come from the Middle Ages. Written and illuminated by monks, they describe every creature thought to exist in the medieval world and include all manner of fish, fowl, and mythological beast, however far fetched. Pauline Baynes, whose original line illustrations for J.R.R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings and C.S. Lewis's The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe are known to millions, has revived twenty medieval and mischievous beasts, basing her tongue-in-cheek descriptions on various English bestiaries. Her delightful recreations of these fabulous beasts, from phoenix to mantichore, from bonnacon to yale, hop, sloop, and gallop through the pages in antique splendor and will charm today's readers as readily as they astounded audiences centuries ago.

Griffins and Phoenixes Kathryn Hinds, 2013-08-01 The griffin is a creature that has a body of a lion and the head of an eagle. The phoenix is a legendary bird of fire, associated with the sun, that is birthed out of ashes. Research into these creatures and the cultures from which they come has provided anthropological understanding in some areas but has also led to many more questions about the creatures' existence and origins. This book examines the myths, legends, and facts surrounding the griffin and phoenix. Cultural diversity is celebrated through the examination of myths and legends from around the world and presents different interpretations about each, providing detailed information for the reader to dissect and explore. The chapters include a detailed sidebar giving insight into legends of past civilizations and encourages students to compare and contrast myths across ages and cultures. Portions of the book use primary sources, directing where students can find more information, including links to websites, videos, and other rich content.

Chapters are built around the high-interest topics kids love. Irresistible book descriptions and book talks guide librarians and teachers to nonfiction books kids want to read. New features include numerous booklists to copy and save, similar to the bookmarks in Gotcha for Guys, and profiles and interviews of some innovative authors such as Sally Walker, Kathleen Krull, Catherine Thimmesh, Steve Jenkins, Ken Mochizuki, and others.
