Pakistan The Economy Of An Elitist State:

Pakistan Ishrat Husain, 1999 A case study of Pakistan's economic development during the past fifty years which demonstrates that the benefit of this development has predominantly affected a small class of the elite while the majority of the population remains illiterate poor and backward

State and Nation-Building in Pakistan Roger D. Long, Gurharpal Singh, Yunas Samad, Ian Talbot, 2015-10-08 Religion violence and ethnicity are all intertwined in the history of Pakistan The entrenchment of landed interests operationalized through violence ethnic identity and power through successive regimes has created a system of authoritarian clientalism This book offers comparative historicist and multidisciplinary views on the role of identity politics in the development of Pakistan Bringing together perspectives on the dynamics of state building the book provides insights into contemporary processes of national contestation which are crucially affected by their treatment in the world media and by the reactions they elicit within an increasingly globalised polity It investigates the resilience of landed elites to political and social change and in the years after partition looks at the impact on land holdings of population transfer It goes on to discuss religious identities and their role in both the construction of national identity and in the development of sectarianism The book highlights how ethnicity and identity politics are an enduring marker in Pakistani politics and why they are increasingly powerful and influential An insightful collection on a range of perspectives on the dynamics of identity politics and the nation state this book on Pakistan will be a useful contribution to South Asian Politics South Asian History and Islamic Studies

New Perspectives on Pakistan's Political Economy Matthew McCartney, S. Akbar Zaidi, 2019-09-19 This volume makes a major intervention in the debates around the nature of the political economy of Pakistan focusing on its contemporary social dynamics This is the first comprehensive academic analysis of Pakistan's political economy after thirty five years and addresses issues of state class and society examining gender the middle classes the media the bazaar economy urban spaces and the new elite The book goes beyond the contemporary obsession with terrorism and extremism political Islam and simple civilian military relations and looks at modern day Pakistan through the lens of varied academic disciplines It not only brings together new work by some emerging scholars but also formulates a new political economy for the country reflecting the contemporary reality and diversification in the social sciences in Pakistan The chapters dynamically and dialectically capture emergent processes and trends in framing Pakistan's political economy and invite scholars to engage with and move beyond these concerns and issues

Law, State and Inequality in Pakistan Muhammad Azeem, 2017-07-02 Through a detailed historical and empirical account of post independence years this book offers a new assessment of the role of the judiciary in Pakistani politics Instead of seeing the judiciary as helpless or struggling against an authoritarian state it argues that the judiciary has been a crucial link in the creation of state and political inequality in Pakistan This rubs against the central role given to the judiciary in developing countries to fix the corrupt politicians and stubborn bureaucracies in the World Bank's Good Governance paradigm and rule of law initiatives It also challenges the contemporary legal and judicial discourse that extols the virtues of Public Interest Litigation While the book's core analysis is a critique of the contemporary liberal legal project it also adds to the critical tradition of social theory by linking political economy to a social theory of law The theoretical aspect of the study is applicable to any developing society whose judiciary is going through foreign sponsored rule of law judicial reforms

The Middle East and South Asia 2020-2022 Elisabeth Yarbakhsh, 2021-09-15 The World Today Series The Middle East and South Asia More than a quarter of the world's population live in the Middle East and South Asia yet our knowledge and understanding of the region is often limited to news updates about the latest conflicts and crises This edition of the annually updated volume of the World Today Series provides important insights that take the reader beyond the headlines It offers detailed and up to date information about the politics economies and societies of the twenty four states that make up the region Contemporary events are placed in their historical context through an examination of major civilizations and key historical events This volume introduces major themes that have shaped the region including the struggles of ordinary people to achieve democratic rights the role of oil in shaping society burgeoning environmental threats and the rise and fall of the Islamic State caliphate While there is reason for optimism in regards to the Middle East and South Asia this is tempered by the very real challenges that confront the region The general reader will gain an understanding of these challenges and opportunities through an exploration of current and past developments

Righteous Demagogues Adnan Naseemullah, Pradeep Chhibber, 2024 Righteous Demagogues explores the causes dynamics and consequences of populist politics in South Asia and beyond It argues that populist mobilizations are rooted in crises of representation and populism is a symptom not an underlying cause of democratic malaise Populist leaders in framing their appeals evoke the moral contract that states are obligated to redress certain types of inequality and promise its restoration in ways that resonate with voters across lines of partisanship and social divisions leading party system change Depending on how broadly populist appeals resonate different types of populism emerge with consequences ranging from the rejection of populists to varying forms of democratic backsliding The book examines the dynamics of populist politics primarily through four cases in South Asia In the late 1960s Indira Gandhi in India and Zulfikar Bhutto in Pakistan effected reordering populist mobilizations on the left against the de facto oligarchic regimes of the Congress party and the Ayub Khan government mobilizing workers peasants and the nascent middle classes against widespread exclusion and inequity In the mid 2010s Narendra Modi and Imran Khan effected additive populist mobilizations of the right mobilizing diverse middle classes across India and Pakistan respectively against perceived corruption and inequity The book applies the framework and typology to explain the causes dynamics and consequences of populism in Latin America Europe and the United States

Democratic Accountability and International Human Development Kamran Afzal, Mark Considine, 2014-11-27 Scholars and policymakers have long known that there is a strong link between human development and spending on key areas such as education and health However many states still neglect these considerations in favour of competing priorities such as expanding their armies This book examines how states arrive at these decisions analysing how democratic accountability influences public spending and impacts on human development The book shows how the broader paradigm of democratic accountability extending beyond political democracy to also include bureaucratic and judicial institutions as well as taxation and other modes of resource mobilisation can best explain how states allocate public resources for human development Combining cross country regression analysis with exemplary case studies from Pakistan India Botswana and Argentina the book demonstrates that enhancing human capabilities requires not only effective party competition and fair elections but also a particular nesting of public organisational structures that are tied to taxpaying citizens in an undisturbed chain of accountability It draws out vital lessons for institutional design and our approach to the question of human development particularly in the less developed states This book will be of great interest to postgraduate students and researchers in the fields of political economy public policy governance and development It also provides valuable insights for those working in the international relations field including inside major aid and investment organisations
