French Moves Felicia McCarren, 2013-04-25 For more than two decades le hip hop has shown another face of France danced by minorities associated with immigration and the suburbs it has channeled rage against racism and unequal opportunity and offered a movement vocabulary for the expression of the multicultural difference that challenges the universalist discourse of the Republic French hip hoppers subscribe to U S black culture to articulate their own difference but in France hip hop was championed by a Socialist cultural policy subsumed into the cultural heritage and instituted as a pedagogy France supported hip hop dance as an art of the suburbs a multicultural mix of North African African and Asian forms that circulate with classical and contemporary dance performance French hip hop develops into concert dance becoming a civic discourse and legitimate employment not through the familiar model of a culture industry but within a Republic of Culture It nuances an Anglo Saxon model of identity politics with a francophone identity poetics and grants its dancers a national profile as artists who develop dance techniques and transmit body based knowledge This book the first in English to introduce readers to the French hip hop movement analyzes the choreographic development of hip hop into la danse urbaine touring on national and international stages as hip hoppers move beyond the suburbs figuring new forms within the mobility brought by new media and global migration Gender in French Banlieue Cinema Marzia Caporale, Claire Mouflard, Habib Zanzana, 2024-07-23 This edited volume investigates the reconfiguration of gender in French banlieue cinema interrogating whether the films produced over the last two decades provide new and viable models of resistance to dominant modes of power Contributors take a critical approach which identifies gender as a marker of both body and identity politics to highlight the need to overcome a binary approach to banlieue aesthetics which limits inquiry into the basis of conflict Given that a feminization and to some extent queering of the once exclusively masculine space is underway contributors ultimately conclude that the banlieue and its on screen representations cannot be properly understood unless intersectionality as a systematic approach is applied as an interpretive lens Scholars of film gender studies and sociology will find this book particularly useful Fatih Akin's Cinema and the New Sound of Europe Berna Gueneli, 2019-01-09 In Fatih Akin's Cinema and the New Sound of Europe Berna Gueneli explores the transnational works of acclaimed Turkish German filmmaker and auteur Fatih Akin The first minority director in Germany to receive numerous national and international awards Akin makes films that are informed by Europe's past provide cinematic imaginations about its present and future and engage with public discourses on minorities and migration in Europe through his treatment and representation of a diverse multiethnic and multilingual European citizenry Through detailed analyses of some of Akin's key works In July Head On and The Edge of Heaven among others Gueneli identifies Akin's unique stylistic use of multivalent sonic and visual components and multinational characters She argues that the soundscapes of Akin's films including music and multiple languages dialects and accents create an aesthetic of heterogeneity that envisions an expanded and integrated

Europe and highlights the political nature of Ak n s decisions regarding casting settings and audio At a time when belonging and identity in Europe is complicated by questions of race ethnicity religion and citizenship Gueneli demonstrates how Ak n s aesthetics intersect with politics to reshape notions of Europe European cinema and cinematic history
