UK Tourism eBook GURMEET SINGH DANG, EBOOK: Sports in Society Jay Coakley, Elizabeth Pike, 2014-04-16

Using a topics based approach organized around provocative questions about the interaction of sports culture and society Sports in Society presents an accessible introduction to research and theory in the sociology of sport This new edition continues the legacy of the previous editions while introducing new material and examples that bring theory to life Current debates in sports such as how youth participation can be increased or sport funding allocated have been integrated throughout the text to provide a holistic view of society An Online Learning Centre accompanies this book offering a range of lecturer support materials as well as resources and tests for students Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Team

Sports: Contextualizing Training and Competition Demands Miguel-Angel Gomez-Ruano, Pierpaolo Sansone, Vincenzo Rago, 2024-12-04 Team sports performance is determined by the complex non linear interaction of several factors including physical and physiological aspects technical tactical constraints mental demands perceptual and emotional aspects and contextual and environmental factors The influence of each of these aspects has been previously investigated However studies have often employed monodimensional perspectives looking at one or only a few different domains concurrently In football and rugby extensive efforts have been produced to contextualize the demands of training and competition based on players characteristics tactical constraints and contextual factors This information facilitates coaches in selecting the most appropriate training and competition strategies based on a number of different factors including the team and the opponents characteristics technical tactical abilities fitness status and considering contextual factors Differently there is a lack of information on contextualized competition demands in other team sports such as basketball handball futsal and volleyball Furthermore the mental demands and psychological and emotional implications of team sports have received little or monodimensional attention limiting the applicability of findings in real life scenarios where a multitude of factors belonging to different disciplines e g physiology psychology training science social sciences need to be taken into account New methodological, intervention and neuroscientific perspectives in sports psychology Antonio Hernández-Mendo, M. Teresa Anguera, Verónica Morales-Sánchez, Jose María Carames Tejedor, 2023-01-20 Performance Optimization in Racket

Sports: the Influence of Psychological Techniques, Factors, and Strategies, 2nd edition Nicolas Robin, Toru Ishihara, Miguel Crespo, Emma Guillet Descas, 2023-07-21 Research and empirical work have revealed the importance of psychological mental skills factors and strategies in improving athletic performance especially in racket sports High levels of self confidence commitment motivation as well as the ability to imagine self regulate set and achieved goals control emotion stress and anxiety facilitate the ability of the racket sport players to achieve peak performance For example players and coaches recognize that the mental or psychological factor should be considered and trained in the same way as the technical or physical components The aim of this Research Topic is to bring together articles in which psychological techniques factors or strategies are discussed used or tested in order to improve the performance of racket sport players such as tennis table tennis badminton or squash and also in new activities such as racketlon paddle or beach tennis Topics of primary interest include but are not limited to Mental training for racket sports The role of mental coach in racket sports Psychological strategies to improve the performance in racket sports Relationship between performance and psychological factors Applied performance enhancement by means of psychological technics Measures of psychological variables in racket sport players Training of psychological skills for performance improvement in racket sport Functional Foods, Supplements, and Dietary Approaches in Sports and Clinical Nutrition Heitor O. Towards a Psychophysiological Approach in Physical Activity, Exercise, and Sports Pedro Forte, Daniel Leite Portella, Diogo Monteiro, José Eduardo Teixeira, 2023-10-30 In recent years there has been an increase in interest in mental health disorders as a result of mediatic coverage of Olympic athletes mental health struggles and also due to the COVID 19 pandemic lockdowns These phenomena helped to further exacerbate a problem already extensively present in sport and society Therefore applying a psychophysiological approach to physical activity exercise and sports research has become very popular Indeed mental fatigue and mental disorders are not only psychological in origin but also require an explanation from a psychophysiological perspective due to the effective interconnection between the psychological and physiological dimensions Psychological variables can also influence performance and the psychophysiological system has a strong effect on the control of physical capacities Moreover pacing behaviour decision making self regulation and effort perception can also explain the role of the brain in physical activity and exercise management Thus the aim of this Research Topic is to share the impact of a psychophysiological approach in physical activity exercise and sports New Methodological, Intervention and Neuroscientific Perspectives in Sports Psychology, volume II Antonio Hernández-Mendo, Jose María Carames Tejedor, M. Teresa Anguera, Verónica Morales-Sánchez, 2025-06-26 This Research Topic is the second volume of the Research Topic New Methodological Intervention and Neuroscientific Perspectives in Sports Psychology Please see the first volume here Within the discipline of sport psychology considerable work involves the development implementation and evaluation of interventions to improve the world of sport The importance of theory as a basis for such intervention efforts has been strongly emphasized In recent years research has shown that there are three factors on which to base future developments methodological innovations e g Mixed Methods new intervention approaches e g Empowering Disempowering Climates and advances in neuroscience e g inhibitory circuits Regarding methodological innovations the importance of mixed methods in this field is highlighted by their profound significance Indeed procedural innovations with direct and indirect observational data has allowed the observational methodology to be considered as a mixed method in itself This approach has been implemented in recent years in many publications relating to various sports Other methodological advances involve the evolution of structural equation analysis For example the increasing use of invariance analysis mediation analysis PLS software which allows non normal samples multilevel analysis generalizability analysis and the graphical evolution of data with programs such as Neo4j

Towards a psychophysiological approach in physical activity, exercise, and sports, volume II Pedro Forte, Daniel Leite Portella, Diogo Monteiro, José Eduardo Teixeira, 2024-07-12 This Research Topic is the second volume of the article collection Towards a Psychophysiological Approach in Physical Activity Exercise and Sports Please see the first volume here <https://www.frontiersin.org/research-topics/39747/towards-a-psychophysiological-approach-in-physical-activity-exercise-and-sports-magazine> In recent years there has been an increase in interest in mental health disorders as a result of mediatic coverage of Olympic athletes mental health struggles and also due to the COVID 19 pandemic lockdowns These phenomena helped to further exacerbate a problem already extensively present in sport and society Therefore applying a psychophysiological approach to physical activity exercise and sports research has become very popular Indeed mental fatigue and mental disorders are not only psychological in origin but also require an explanation from a psychophysiological perspective due to the effective interconnection between the psychological and physiological dimensions Psychological variables can also influence performance and the psychophysiological system has a strong effect on the control of physical capacities Moreover pacing behaviour decision making self regulation and effort perception can also explain the role of the brain in physical activity and exercise management Thus the aim of this Research Topic is to share the impact of a psychophysiological approach in physical activity exercise and sports The goal of this Topic is to address the following Factors determining performance including technical tactical physiological cognitive and psychosocial training and competition demand training interventions and testing in sports acute and chronic effects of training in psychophysiological variables coaching in sports strength and conditioning mental health and performance recent developments within sports sciences research This Research Topic endeavors to explore at specific themes related to physiological stress and mental well being Additionally we aim to provide evidence to coaches and sports scientists highlighting the relationship between training and competition demands related to performance We also want to analyze the effects of strength and conditioning training and coaching effects acute and chronic on psychological and physiological Finally it is our intention to provide scientific literature with evidence for a relationship between movement behavior and cognition with physiological performance the psychophysiological approach

Towards a Psychophysiological Approach in Physical Activity, Exercise, and Sports, volume III Pedro Forte, Daniel Leite Portella, José Eduardo Teixeira, Diogo Monteiro, 2025-01-06 In recent years there has been a growing recognition of the profound interconnection between mental health cognition and physiological responses in the context of physical activity exercise and sports This heightened awareness has prompted a paradigm shift towards embracing a holistic psychophysiological perspective in research within this field Volume III of this Research Topic delves deeper into the intricate relationship between psychological factors such as depression anxiety and motivation and their impact on physiological variables during physical activity exercise and sports performance Through a comprehensive exploration of this multidimensional interplay we aim to advance our understanding of how cognition education and psychological well being intersect with physiological responses By examining the nexus of mental health cognition and physiological variables we aim to shed light on the underlying mechanisms driving performance behaviour and overall well being in athletes and individuals engaged in physical activity We invite contributors to uncover new insights and pave the way for innovative approaches to enhancing performance promoting well being and addressing mental health challenges in the realm of physical activity exercise and sports
