Teacher Education for the Changing Demographics of Schooling Lani Florian, Nataša Pantić, 2017-04-09 The book takes as its premise the argument that diverse learner groups are a fact of demographic change that should be considered foundational in the preparation of teachers rather than be problematized as a challenge. It promotes the idea of teacher education for inclusive education based on a consideration of what it means to educate all children together. Divided into four parts, the book considers key issues for teacher education: teacher agency, teacher education for diversity, and a research agenda for the future. In today's world, the demographic profile of students in schools is more complex than ever before, and the increasing cultural, linguistic, and developmental diversity of today's classrooms, along with the pressure to achieve high academic standards for everybody, has significant implications for how classroom teachers should be prepared to meet these demands. This book advances a new understanding of inclusive education that addresses the limitations inherent in current approaches that problematize differences between learner groups by promoting a view of difference as an aspect of human individuality. It considers the implications of the research evidence underpinning teacher education for diversity and makes suggestions for future research in the field. British Education Index, 2005

Achievement and Inclusion in Schools Lani Florian, Kristine Black-Hawkins, Martyn Rouse, Kristine Black-Hawkins, 2007-08-07. Winner of the nasen Special Educational Needs Academic Book award 2008. There is an enduring and widespread perception amongst policy makers and practitioners that certain groups of children, in particular those who find learning difficult, have a detrimental effect on the achievement of other children. Packed with vivid case studies that explore the benefits and tensions for children and schools, this book sets out to answer the following questions: What is the nature of the relationship between the inclusion of some children and the achievement of all? Are there strategies which can raise the achievement of all children whilst safeguarding the inclusion of others who are more vulnerable? What changes can a school make to ensure high levels of inclusion as well as high levels of achievement for all its children? Achievement and Inclusion in Schools offers an up-to-date analysis of current issues, provides practical guidance for practitioners and policy makers, and will be of interest to anyone passionate about inclusive education. Vielfalt als Chance Bernhard Schörkhuber, Martina Rabl, Heidemarie Svehla, 2017.
