Multicampus University Systems Ishmael I. Munene,2014-08-27 In the face of increasing social demand and cutbacks in state budgetary support universities in African countries are now turning towards a multicampus system strategy As African governments have adopted neoliberal education policies that place premium on entrepreneurialism profit making privatization and markets as drivers of university development a reshaping of the academic work and organizational framework have taken place However little is known about the impact of this paradigm shift on access quality and governance in higher education This book fills the void in research and academic knowledge about the impact of the emerging university configurations in Africa It analyzes the paradox surrounding the performance of multicampus university systems as avenues of broadening university access but whose structural success may be qualitatively contested This book offers a refreshing examination of the African multicampus university system from both an African and global perspective It makes use of empirical data from Kenya collected during extensive fieldwork along with substantive library and documentary resources on the rest of the continents to fortify arguments and demonstrate important conclusions This allows for a comparative analysis of policies and strategies used in the establishment of campuses both within and beyond national boundaries in the continent and will be a welcome contribution to the existing repertoire on African universities The Arid Frontier Hendrik J. Bruins,Harvey Lithwick,2012-12-06 The arid frontier has been a challenge for humanity from time immemorial Drylands cover more than one third of the global land surface distributed over Africa Asia Australia America and Southern Europe Disasters may develop as a result of complex interactions between drought desertification and society Therefore proactive planning and interactive management including disaster coping strategies are essential in dealing with arid frontier development This book presents a conceptual framework with case studies in dryland development and management The option of a rational and ethical discourse for development that is beneficial for both the environment and society is emphasized avoiding extreme environmentalism and human destructionism combating both desertification and human livelihood insecurity Such development has to be based on appropriate ethics legislation policy proactive planning and interactive management Excellent scholars address these issues focusing on the principal interactions between people and dryland environments in terms of drought food land water renewable energy and housing Audience This volume will be of great value to all those interested in Dryland Development and Management professionals and policy makers in governmental international and non governmental organizations NGOs as well as researchers lecturers and students in Geography Environmental Management Regional Studies Development Anthropology Hazard and Disaster Management Agriculture and Pastoralism Land and Water Use African Studies and Renewable Energy Resources Mammals of Africa Jonathan Kingdon, David Happold, Thomas Butynski, Michael Hoffmann, Meredith Happold, Jan Kalina, 2013-05-23 WINNER OF THE 2014 DARTMOUTH MEDAL AWARDED BY THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION Mammals of Africa represents a high water mark not just in mammalogy but in scientific publishing overall Magnificent Tim Flannery Macquarie University Sydney Mammals of Africa MoA is a series of six volumes which describes in detail every currently recognized species of African land mammal This is the first time that such extensive coverage has ever been attempted and the volumes incorporate the very latest information and detailed discussion of the morphology distribution biology and evolution including reference to fossil and molecular data of Africa's mammals With 1 160 species and 16 orders Africa has the greatest diversity and abundance of mammals in the world The reasons for this and the mechanisms behind their evolution are given special attention in the series Each volume follows the same format with detailed profiles of every species and higher taxa The series includes some 660 colour illustrations by Jonathan Kingdon and his many drawings highlight details of morphology and behaviour of the species concerned Diagrams schematic details and line drawings of skulls and jaws are by Jonathan Kingdon and Meredith Happold Every species also includes a detailed distribution map Extensive references alert readers to more detailed information
