The Great Ordovician Biodiversification Event B. D. Webby, 2004 Two of the greatest evolutionary events in the history of life on Earth occurred during Early Paleozoic time The first was the Cambrian explosion of skeletonized marine animals about 540 million years ago The second was the Great Ordovician Biodiversification Event which is the focus of this book This is the first book devoted specifically to establishing the global patterns of differentiation of Ordovician biotas through time and space It provides extensive genus and species level diversity data for the many Ordovician fossil groups and presents an evaluation of how each group diversified with assessments of patterns of change and rates of origination and extinction

Environmental Literacy in Science and Society Roland W. Scholz, Claudia R. Binder, 2011-07-21 In an era where humans affect virtually all of the earth's processes questions arise about whether we have sufficient knowledge of human environment interactions How can we sustain the Earth's ecosystems to prevent collapses and what roles should practitioners and scientists play in this process These are the issues central to the concept of environmental literacy This unique book provides a comprehensive review and analysis of environmental literacy within the context of environmental science and sustainable development Approaching the topic from multiple perspectives it explores the development of human understanding of the environment and human environment interactions in the fields of biology psychology sociology economics and industrial ecology The discussion emphasises the importance of knowledge integration and transdisciplinary processes as key strategies for understanding complex human environment systems HES In addition the author defines the HES framework as a template for investigating sustainably coupled human environment systems in the 21st century

A Global Synthesis of the Ordovician System: Part 1 D.A.T. Harper, B. Lefebvre, I. G. Percival, T. Servais, 2023-06-07 The Ordovician was one of the longest of the geological periods characterized by major magmatic and tectonic activity an immense biodiversification swings in climate and sea levels and the first Phanerozoic mass extinction A Global Synthesis of the Ordovician System is presented in two volumes in The Geological Society Special Publications This first volume SP532 charts the history of the Ordovician System and explores significant advances in our understanding of its biostratigraphy including more precise calibration of its timescale with tephra chronology and regional alignments using astrochronology and cyclostratigraphy Changes in the world's oceans their shifting currents and sea levels the biogeography of their biotas and the ambient climate are described and discussed against a background of changing palaeogeography This first volume also includes syntheses of the Ordovician geology for most European countries including historical key areas such as Great Britain Baltoscandia and Bohemia The second volume SP533 provides synthetic aspects of the Ordovician geology of most other parts of the world
