Multilingual Literature as World Literature Jane Hiddleston, Wen-chin Ouyang, 2021-05-06 Multilingual Literature as World Literature examines and adjusts current theories and practices of world literature particularly the conceptions of world global and local reflecting on the ways that multilingualism opens up the borders of language nation and genre and makes visible different modes of circulation across languages nations media and cultures The contributors to Multilingual Literature as World Literature examine four major areas of critical research First by looking at how engaging with multilingualism as a mode of reading makes visible the multiple pathways of circulation including as aesthetics or poetics emerging in the literary world when languages come into contact with each other Second by exploring how politics and ethics contribute to shaping multilingual texts at a particular time and place with a focus on the local as a site for the interrogation of global concerns and a call for diversity Third by engaging with translation and untranslatability in order to consider the ways in which ideas and concepts elude capture in one language but must be read comparatively across multiple languages And finally by proposing a new vision for linguistic creativity beyond the binary structure of monolingualism versus multilingualism EBOOK: TEACHING THE PRIMARY CURRICULUM Jane Johnston, Mark Charter, Derek Bell, 2002-01-16 What is good teaching and learning in the primary school How can teachers manage the whole curriculum and still educate the whole child and raise standards How can teachers be in critical dialogue with each other and with the curriculum in their search for improvement What is the role of the teacher in the new primary curriculum This wide ranging book seeks to address these questions and to provide a comprehensive overview of the whole primary curriculum It aims to develop teaching throughout primary education and to support teachers in the effective delivery of the curriculum There is a particular focus on recent changes in primary education The contributors consider how teaching methodologies need to adapt to these changes to meet the needs of children and raise standards in school Throughout the book emphasis is placed on effective teaching and learning methodologies the importance of quality interaction in the classroom the role of the teacher in teaching and learning and the experience of the child Exemplars of good teaching are provided in each chapter as well as thought provoking ideas for good practice World of the Sufi Idries Shah, 2019-04-28 Assembled by Idries Shah The World of the Sufi is a comprehensive collection of learned essays and papers on the subject of Sufi thought One of the book's attractions is the way that it considers central questions and areas of study from different angles Sufi literature the use of humour and Sufi communities in various cultural settings are some of the many subjects discussed In addition experts in their fields comment on areas such as Sufism and Psychiatry Indian Thought and the Sufis and Therapy and the Sufi Among the book's contributors are Idries Shah Doris Lessing Peter Brent and Dr Arthur J Deikman A Monk of Fife Andrew Lang, 2012 This book is annotated with a rare extensive biographical sketch of the author Andrew Lang written by Sir Edmund Gosse CB a contemporary poet and writer The book The recent revival of interest in the Maid of Orleans has resulted in the production of a considerable amount of romantic fiction of which the most important example is Mr Lang's A Monk of Fife The subject is one almost ideally suited to Mr Lang's hand appealing as it does to his deepest interests and intellectual sympathies how warmly the noble poem in his latest volume of verse may witness The romance before us pretends to be a translation of a French manuscript in the Ratisbons Scots College Whether this pretence be wholly a bit of mystification we are not concerned to inquire for all practical purposes A Monk of Fife is an original work of Mr Lang's imagination although it follows historical fact more closely than such fiction is wont to do As to the style of the book it may be described in Mr Lang's own words as not imitating in manner the almost contemporary English of the Paston Letters or the somewhat earlier English style of the Regent Bedford but merely attempting to give a moderately old air to his Mr Lang's version of a French which genuine or imitative is certainly in character and spelling antique The story is told in the first person and is essentially the narrative of a young Scotsman fleeing from his own country in consequence of a brawl and finding service with the French at such a time as to be concerned in the siege of Orleans and to become closely associated with the fortunes of the Maid The narrative is at times labored as the result of a wish to omit no historical fact of importance but is for the most part highly readable giving a vivid impression of the stirring life of early fifteenth century France
