abusing it since nomadic northern Paiutes began hunting the lake's vast bird populations. Controversy between environmentalists and the City of Los Angeles brought so much attention to Mono Lake in the late twentieth century that it became best known for its appearance on Save Mono Lake bumper stickers. This thoughtful study is the first book to explore the lake's environmental and cultural history. Hoffman writes about gold mining in the Mono Basin, the taking of birds and their eggs to supply food for miners and townspeople, a failed oil boom, efforts to develop recreational activities such as a state-operated marina, which also failed, catastrophes including plane crashes and the testing of bombs underwater, and litigation over the diversion of creeks flowing into the lake and the resulting decline in the lake level. A variety of photographs, some never before published, ranging from mining to motor boat races in the 1930s are also included.

California's Deadliest Earthquakes
 Abraham Hoffman, 2017-06-26
 A detailed look at the state's most terrifying and destructive disasters, photos included. Home to hundreds of faults, California leads the nation in frequency of earthquakes every year. And despite enduring their share of the natural disasters, residents still speculate over the inevitable big one. More than three thousand people lost their lives during the 1906 San Francisco earthquake. Long Beach's 1933 earthquake caused nearly 50 million in damages. And the Northridge earthquake injured thousands and left a 550 million economic hit. In this book, historian Abraham Hoffman explores the personal accounts and aftermath of California's most destructive tremors.
