Community Risk Reduction Principles and Practices Beverley Walker, 2021-07. Community Risk Reduction Principles and Practice is an ideal training solution for fire and emergency services organizations planning to design, implement, and maintain a community risk reduction program. All members of the organization will benefit, including company officers, emergency medical services providers, and officers, fire inspectors, fire marshals, fire chiefs, fire and life safety educators, and other community or allied health professionals in community risk reduction. It is also designed for use within fire science programs offering courses on community risk reduction. Community Risk Reduction Principles and Practice provides a comprehensive overview of the many components of creating a community risk reduction plan. This textbook examines the history of the fire problem in the United States, how that history affected fire and building codes, and ultimately how it pushed the fire service profession toward the concept of community risk reduction and the idea that more people are saved from injury or death through prevention and risk reduction than through fire suppression. The text describes the process of identifying and defining a variety of communities, including those that are more vulnerable, and explains how to identify their specific risks, develop a thorough community risk assessment, and ultimately create a comprehensive community risk reduction plan. Throughout the text, the community risk reduction model developed by the National Fire Academy and the model developed by Vision 20/20 serve as a roadmap. Although the steps in the two models do not align exactly, in the end, they both describe the same process. The text is presented in five sections: Section 1, Getting Ready for Community Risk Reduction, introduces the concept of community risk reduction, defines community, explains how to identify a variety of communities, including those that are at a higher risk of injury or death, describes the role and responsibilities of fire and emergency services in CRR, and Section 2, Getting Started with Community Risk Reduction, explains how to conduct a community risk assessment and identify specific risks in the community and subcommunities, describes the factors to consider when prioritizing risks to identify which risks should become part of the community risk reduction plan, describes how to write problem statements, goals, and objectives that will become part of the risk reduction plan, Section 3, Identifying and Developing CRR Intervention Strategies, describes how to develop strategies for mitigating identified risks, explains how to use Haddon's Matrix to rank identified risks, explains how to use the 5 Es causal chain analysis and cost-benefit analysis to create workable risk reduction strategies, describes how to create a workable community risk reduction plan, Section 4, Implementing Risk Reduction, focuses on how to implement the risk reduction plan, explains the importance of establishing and maintaining organizational and community equity so that the risk reduction plan is supported, provides suggestions for marketing the community risk reduction plan via social marketing, social media, and social media marketing, explains the importance of pilot testing, and monitoring the risk reduction program.

Section 5 Keeping It Going Explains the importance of evaluating the risk reduction plan and determining which initiatives in the plan were the most effective and which need to be modified Describes the differences between quantitative and qualitative data and the methods of gathering this data Explains how to use the collected data to evaluate the program and describe the results so that the program can be revised to be more effective in the future Book jacket

Neuroenhancement: how mental training and meditation can promote epistemic virtue. Barbro Fröding, Walter Osika, 2015-08-31 This book explores how one can bring about changes in the brain through meditation both through attention focus training and through compassion training Recent findings in the natural sciences have confirmed that it is possible for humans to achieve these structural and functional changes through various life style practices It is argued that meditation enables us to influence some aspects of our biological make up and for example could boost our cognitive flexibility as well as our ability to act compassionate Such changes are likely to facilitate the instilling of a number of epistemic virtues which have great bearing on our quality of life This book offers the reader an accessible introduction to a set of neuro enhancement methods with a special focus on meditation techniques and explores how such practices could contribute to make us better decision makers and improve our moral virtues The book is suitable for anyone looking for a text discussing the effects of neuro enhancement from a secular ethics perspective
