Perfect Motherhood Science And Childrearing In America:

Perfect Motherhood Rima Apple, 2006-05-23 Parenting today is virtually synonymous with worry We want to ensure that our children are healthy that they get a good education and that they grow up to be able to cope with the challenges of modern life In our anxiety we are keenly aware of our inability to know what is best for our children When should we toilet train What is the best way to encourage a fussy child to eat How should we protect our children from disease and injury Before the nineteenth century maternal instinct a mother's natural know how was considered the only tool necessary for effective childrearing Over the past two hundred years however science has entered the realm of motherhood in increasingly significant ways In Perfect Motherhood Rima D Apple shows how the growing belief that mothers need to be savvy about the latest scientific directives has shifted the role of expert away from the mother and toward the professional establishment Apple however argues that most women today are finding ways to negotiate among the abundance of scientific recommendations their own knowledge and the reality of their daily lives

Perfect Motherhood Rima Dombrow Apple, 2006 In Perfect Motherhood Rima D Apple shows how the growing belief that mothers need to be savvy about the latest scientific directives has shifted the role of expert away from the mother and toward the professional establishment

Single Lives Katherine Fama, Jorie Lagerwey, 2022-05-13 Single Lives is a collection of singleness studies essays from the interdisciplinary humanities that explores the last two hundred years of literature and popular media by about and for single women in the US and the UK Independent women have always been a center around which social anxieties and excitement coalesced Moving between the family home and domestic independence between household and public labor and between celibacy and a range of sexual relations the single woman remains a literary and cultural focus as she has been from the 19th to the 21st centuries This collection offers readers the opportunity to uncover the social political economic and cultural connections between the singly blessed women and bachelor girls of the 19th and early 20th century and all the single ladies of the 21st century Essays read singleness across genre and field offering new approaches to studying modern and contemporary single women in literature film and history Authors engage scholarship from wide ranging fields of social history women s studies queer theory and Black feminism The collection reads familiar texts against the grain rethinking archival resources revisiting familiar figures and exploring new sources cookbooks ephemera personal documents recovered film histories and forms of domestic space and labor This is a book for scholars of gender and sexuality social history feminist film and media scholars and literary historians and reflects the urgent contemporary interest in single women as a political economic and cultural force

Encyclopedia of Motherhood Andrea O'Reilly,2010-04-06 In the last decade the topic of motherhood has emerged as a distinct and established field of scholarly inquiry A cursory review of motherhood research reveals that hundreds of scholarly articles have been published on almost every motherhood theme imaginable The Encyclopedia of Motherhood is a collection of approximately 700 articles in a three volume A to Z set exploring major topics related to motherhood from geographical historical and cultural entries to anthropological and psychological contributions In human society few institutions are as important as motherhood and this unique encyclopedia captures the interdisciplinary foundation of the subject in one convenient reference The Encyclopedia is a comprehensive resource designed to provide an understanding of the complexities of motherhood for academic and public libraries and is written by academics and institutional experts in the social and behavioural sciences

Parenting in Global Perspective Charlotte Faircloth,Diane M. Hoffman,Linda L. Layne,2013-10-28 Drawing on both sociological and anthropological perspectives this volume explores cross national trends and everyday experiences of parenting Parenting in Global Perspective examines the significance of parenting as a subject of professional expertise and activity in which adults are increasingly expected to be emotionally absorbed and become personally fulfilled By focusing the significance of parenting as a form of relationship and as mediated by family relationships across time and space the book explores the points of accommodation and points of tension between parenting as defined by professionals and those experienced by parents themselves Specific themes include the ways in which the moral context for parenting is negotiated and sustained the structural constraints to good parenting particularly in cases of immigration or reproductive technologies the relationship between intimate family life and broader cultural trends parenting culture policy making and nationhood parenting and as adult identity work Including contributions on parenting from a range of ethnographic locales from Europe Canada and the US to non Euro American settings such as Turkey Chile and Brazil this volume presents a uniquely critical and international perspective which positions parenting as a global ideology that intersects in a variety of ways with the political social cultural and economic positions of parents and families

Militant

Lactivism? Charlotte Faircloth, 2013-03-01 Following networks of mothers in London and Paris the author profiles the narratives of women who breastfeed their children to full term typically a period of several years as part of an attachment parenting philosophy These mothers talk about their decision to continue breastfeeding as the natural thing to do evolutionarily appropriate scientifically best and what feels right in their hearts Through a theoretical focus on knowledge claims and accountability the author frames these accounts within a wider context of intensive parenting arguing that parenting practices infant feeding in particular have become a highly moralized affair for mothers practices which they feel are a critical aspect of their identity work The book investigates why how and with what implications some of these mothers describe themselves as militant lactivists and reflects on wider parenting culture in the UK and France Discussing gender feminism and activism this study contributes to kinship and family studies by exploring how relatedness is enacted in conjunction to constructions of the self

Mother Sarah Knott, 2019-03-07 What was mothering like in the past When acclaimed historian Sarah Knott became pregnant she asked herself this question But accounts of motherhood are hard to find For centuries historians have concerned themselves with wars politics and revolutions not the everyday details of carrying and caring for a baby Much to do with becoming a mother past or present is lost or forgotten Using the arc of her own experience from miscarriage to the birth and early babyhood of her two children and drawing on letters diaries court records and paintings Sarah Knott explores the ever changing experiences of maternity across the ages From the labour pains felt by an enslaved woman to the triumphant smile of a royal mistress bearing a king's first son from a 1950s suburban housewife to a working class East End taking her baby to the factory these lost stories of mothering create a moving depiction of an ever changing human experience A joy to read New York Times Timely and fascinating Amanda Foreman Utterly compelling Financial Times Knott manages to combine scholarship with personal experience in a heartfelt and original way Every mother to be should read it Sunday Times Wonderful This is history at its best writing that unfolds the past and sheds light on the present Financial Times A stunning book riveting from beginning to end Diane Atkinson author of Rise Up Women The Remarkable Lives of the Suffragettes

What's Wrong with the Poor? Mical Raz, 2013-11-11 In her insightful interdisciplinary history physician and historian Mical Raz examines the interplay between psychiatric theory and social policy throughout the 1960s ending with President Richard Nixon's 1971 veto of a bill that would have provided universal day care She shows that this cooperation between mental health professionals and policymakers was based on an understanding of what poor men women and children lacked This perception was rooted in psychiatric theories of deprivation focused on two overlapping sections of American society the poor had less and African Americans disproportionately represented among America's poor were seen as having practically nothing

Mother Media Hannah Zeavin, 2025-04-29 An essential history for understanding how we mother now and how motherhood itself became a medium winner of the Brooke Hindle Award from the Society for the History of Technology From the nursery to the prison from the clinic to the commune Mother Media tells the story of how we arrived at our contemporary understanding of what a mother is and how understandings of bad mothering formed our contemporary panics about bad media In this book leading historian of psychology Hannah Zeavin examines twentieth century pediatric psychological educational industrial and economic norms around mediated mothering and technologized parenting The book charts the crisis of the family across the twentieth century and the many ingenious attempts to remediate nursemaid and mother via speculative technologies and screen media Growing out of her previous award winning book The Distance Cure which considered technologized care the book lays bare the contradictions of techno parenting and how it relates to conceptions of maternal fitness medical redlining and surveillance of children parents and other caregivers The author offers narratives of parenting in its extremity for example Shaken Baby Syndrome and its ostensible banality for example the Nanny Cam and how the two are often intertwined Ultimately Zeavin grapples with a simple contradiction technology is seen and judged as harmful in domestic and educational spaces even as it is a saving grace in the unending labor of raising a family
