Perpetual Prisoner Machine How America Profits From Crime:

Punishing the Poor Loïc Wacquant, 2009-05-22 A sociologist explains how over the past two decades neoliberal societies have sought to control the poor through a combination of penal sanction and welfare supervision The Perpetual Prisoner Machine Joel Dyer, 2000 A critical look at the United States criminal justice system raising an obvious question If crime rates aren't going up why is the prison population Perpetual Prisoner Machine Joel Dyer, 2000-12-08 In The Perpetual Prisoner Machine author Joel Dyer takes a critical look at the United States criminal justice system as we enter the new millennium America has more than tripled its prison population since 1980 even though crime rates have been either flat or declining The U S now incarcerates nearly two million people in its prisons and jails on any given day and over five million of its citizens are currently under some form of justice department supervision These facts raise an obvious question If crime rates aren't going up why is the prison population The Perpetual Prisoner Machine provides the answer to this question and shockingly it has little to do with crime or justice The answer is profit In the 1990s through their mutual and pension funds millions of American investors are now unwittingly profiting from crime As a result of America's controversial push towards the privatization of its justice system a growing number of well known and politically influential U S Corporations and subsequently their shareholders are now cashing in on a prison trade whose profit potential is tied directly to the growth of the prison population A disturbing realization when you consider the influence that these same multi national companies now have over our government's policy making process by way of their lobbyists and their ability to fill campaign coffers The Perpetual Prisoner Machine explains how the new prison industrial complex has capitalized upon the public's fear of crime which has its origins in violent media content to help bring about the hard on crime policies that have led to our prison filling and therefore profitable war on crime In addition to a quest for profits Dyer describes an astounding chain of events including media consolidation and globalization advances in communication technology and the increasing political dependence upon public opinion polls and campaign funding that have led to the creation of what the author calls the perpetual prisoner machine a mechanism designed to suck the funds from social programs that diminish the crime enhancing power of poverty and spit them into the bank accounts of those who own stock in the prison industrial complex Dyer concludes that powerful market driven forces have manipulated America into fighting a very real war against an imaginary foe Unfortunately says Dyer real wars have real casualties And in this case the victims are America's poor particularly those segments of our black and Hispanic population who live in poverty and who now comprise the vast majority of the new human commodity Race and Crime Shaun L. Gabbidon, Helen Taylor Greene, 2015-09-11 Written by two of the most prominent criminologists in the field Race and Crime Fourth Edition examines how racial and ethnic groups intersect with the U S criminal justice system Award winning authors Shaun L Gabbidon and Helen Taylor Greene provide students with the latest data and research on White Black Hispanic Latino Asian American and Native American intersections with the criminal justice system Rich with several timely topics such as biosocial theory violent victimizations police bias and immigration policing the Fourth Edition continues to investigate modern day issues relevant to understanding race ethnicity and crime in the United States A thought provoking discussion of contemporary issues is uniquely balanced with an historical context to offer students a panoramic perspective on race and crime Accessible and reader friendly this comprehensive text shows students how race and ethnicity have mattered and continue to matter in the administration of justice The Pains of Mass Imprisonment Benjamin Fleury-Steiner, Jamie G Longazel, 2013-10-01 This concise and engaging book presents a critical perspective on the correctional system and the process of incarceration in the United States Fleury Steiner and Longazel emphasize the magnitude of mass imprisonment in the United States especially of people of color not by objective statistics and trends but by the voices and lived experiences of individuals who live their harsh conditions on a daily basis This is an ideal book for courses in corrections social problems criminology and prisoner re entry Youth Justice in America Maryam Ahranjani, Andrew G. Ferguson, Jamin B. Raskin, 2014-07-01 Youth Justice in America Second Edition engages students in an exciting informed discussion of the U S juvenile justice system and fills a pressing need to make legal issues personally meaningful to young people Written in a straightforward style by Maryam Ahranjani Andrew Ferguson and Jamie Raskin all of whom actively work in the area of juvenile justice the book addresses tough important issues that directly affect today s youth including the rights of accused juveniles search and seizure self incrimination and confession right to appeal and the death penalty for juveniles Focusing on cases that relate to the Fourth Fifth Sixth and Eighth Amendments to the U S Constitution the subject matter comes alive through a wide variety of in book learning aids Race and Crime Helen Taylor Greene, Shaun L. Gabbidon, 2011-04-18 Race and Crime A Text Reader includes a collection of recent articles on race and crime published in a number of leading criminal justice journals along with original textual material that serves to explain and unify the readings Through discussion of selected articles numerous topics are explored including the historical social economic and political contexts of race and crime such as class gender comparative perspectives justice issues theories and statistics Changing Lenses Howard Zehr, 2015-06-01 Does the criminal justice system actually help victims and offenders What does justice look like for those who have been harmed For those who have done harm Twenty five years after it was first published Changing Lenses by Howard Zehr remains the classic text of the restorative justice field Now with valuable author updates on the changing landscape of restorative justice and a new section of resources for practitioners and teachers Changing Lenses offers a framework for understanding crime injury accountability and healing from a restorative perspective Uncovering widespread assumptions about crime the courts retributive justice and the legal process Changing Lenses offers provocative new paradigms and proven alternatives for public policy and judicial reform What s New in the Twenty Fifth Anniversary Edition Author updates of terminology paradigms and recommended reading Foreword by restorative justice practitioner Sujatha Baliga New resources for teachers facilitators and practitioners Violence
