Seeing Through Zen Seeing Through Zen:

Seeing through Zen John R. Mcrae, 2004-01-19 The tradition of Chan Buddhism more popularly known as Zen has been romanticized throughout its history In this book John R McRae shows how modern critical techniques supported by recent manuscript discoveries make possible a more skeptical accurate and ultimately productive assessment of Chan lineages teaching fundraising practices and social organization Synthesizing twenty years of scholarship Seeing through Zen offers new accessible analytic models for the interpretation of Chan spiritual practices and religious history Writing in a lucid and engaging style McRae traces the emergence of this Chinese spiritual tradition and its early figureheads Bodhidharma and the sixth patriarch Huineng through the development of Zen dialogue and koans In addition to constructing a central narrative for the doctrinal and social evolution of the school Seeing through Zen examines the religious dynamics behind Chan's use of iconoclastic stories and myths of patriarchal succession McRae argues that Chinese Chan is fundamentally genealogical both in its self understanding as a school of Buddhism and in the very design of its practices of spiritual cultivation Furthermore by forgoing the standard idealization of Zen spontaneity we can gain new insight into the religious vitality of the school as it came to dominate the Chinese religious scene providing a model for all of East Asia and the modern world Ultimately this book aims to change how we think about Chinese Chan by providing new ways of looking at the tradition Seeing Through Zen John R. McRae, 2003 Table of contents Patriarchs on Paper Alan Cole, 2016-11-01 The truth of Chan Buddhism better known as Zen is regularly said to be beyond language and yet Chan authors medieval and modern produced an enormous quantity of literature over the centuries To make sense of this well known paradox Patriarchs on Paper explores several genres of Chan literature that appeared during the Tang and Song dynasties c 600 1300 including genealogies biographies dialogues poems monastic handbooks and koans Working through this diverse body of literature Alan Cole details how Chan authors developed several strategies to evoke images of a perfect Buddhism in which wonderfully simple masters transmitted Buddhism's final truth to one another suddenly and easily and of course independent of literature and the complexities of the Buddhist monastic system Chan literature then reveled in staging delightful images of a Buddhism free of Buddhism tempting the reader over and over with the possibility of finding behind the thick facade of real Buddhism with all its rules texts doctrines and institutional solidity an ethereal world of pure spirit Patriarchs on Paper charts the emergence of this kind of fantasy Buddhism and details how it interacted with more traditional forms of Chinese Buddhism in order to show how Chan's illustrious ancestors were created in literature in order to further a wide range of real world agendas Finishing in Architecture Paul Emmons, Marcia Feuerstein, Negar Goljan, 2025-06-30 Finishing in Architecture Polishing Completing Ending explores the topic of finishing and the fascinating physical and metaphysical implications of its various conceptions in architecture Finishing is essential to all human practices and concepts of time yet simultaneously it is largely impossible to identify an entirely finished state of being As mortals we organize our worlds into beginnings and endings starts and finishes

Architecture's temporality however may contain something of both the mortal and immortal within it a desire for permanence combined with lamentation over its impossibility While many approaches to finishing construct two opposed ontological conditions the finished and the unfinished this dualistic ploy neglects the complexity of architectural practice cultural reception and historiographic shifts in semiotics during the lifetime of a building More nuanced approaches are examined in this collection of 38 essays and creative works from a diverse group of scholars architects and artists who conceptualize finishing not simply as a final outcome but as an extended action a mood that presumes an end is near all the while working continuously toward but never achieving completion It is here that the concept of finishing is not a state of being but a state of becoming as an active thickening of time when the end is thought to be imminent but not yet attained Finishing more than a final endpoint is a void state that is extended through efforts framing its territory while never quite containing it From the material to the procedural and the conceptual this volume explores the practices of finishing in architecture within three currents surfaces projects and most broadly architectural times It will be of interest to students and instructors of architecture and design architectural historians and other scholars

Principles of Zen Training for Educational Settings Hugh Schuckman, 2024-10-31 This book provides insights into new developments and persistent traditions in Zen teacher training and education through the use of historical archival research and original interviews with living Zen Masters It argues that some contemporary Euro American social values of gender equality non discrimination rationality ecumenicism and democracy permeate not only the organizational aspects of the Kwan Um School of Zen case study but soteriological processes and goals of the training more widely Each chapter showcases the ways important facets of Zen education from meditation to curriculum development to school management have absorbed Euro American cultural and social ideals in both community and educational practices Giving dedicated scholarly attention and conceptualising new adaptations in transnational Zen communities it constitutes an important and timely addition to the literature and will appeal to researchers and scholars of religion and education Asian pedagogies contemporary Buddhism transnational Zen and Zen education

The Records of Mazu and the Making of Classical Chan Literature Mario Poceski, 2015-08-12 The Records of Mazu and the Making of Classical Chan Literature explores the historical growth and transformation of Chan Zen Buddhist literature in medieval China focusing especially on the earliest records of Mazu Daoyi 709-788. It presents important primary materials about classical Chan Buddhism, some of them translated for the first time into English. The World's Greatest Religious Leaders Scott E. Hendrix, Uchenna Okeja, 2018-03-01. This book provides reliable information about important world religious leaders, correcting the misinformation that can be on the internet. Religious leaders have shaped the course of history and deeply affected the lives of many individuals. This book offers alphabetically arranged profiles of roughly 160 religious leaders from around the world and across time, carefully chosen for their impact and importance and to maximize inclusiveness of faiths from around the world. Scholars from around the world, each one an expert in his or her field and all holding advanced degrees, came together to create an essential resource for students and for those with an interest in religion and its history. Every entry has been carefully edited in a two-stage review process guaranteeing accuracy and readability throughout the work. Not strictly a biographical reference that recounts the facts of religious figures' lives, the book helps users understand how the selected figures changed history. The entries are accompanied by excerpts of primary source documents and suggestions for further reading, while the book closes with a bibliography of essential print and electronic resources for further research. Vanishing Into Things Barry Allen, 2015-04-07. Barry Allen explores the concept of knowledge in Chinese thought over two millennia and compares the different philosophical imperatives that have driven Chinese and Western thought. Challenging the hyperspecialized epistemology of modern Western philosophy, he urges his readers toward an ethical appreciation of why knowledge is worth pursuing. Buddhist Scriptures as Literature Ralph Flores, 2009-01-01. Buddhist Scriptures as Literature explores the drama, lyricism, and compelling storylines in Buddhist sacred writings while illustrating how rhetoric and ideology are at work in shaping readers' reactions. Ralph Flores argues that the Buddha's life story itself follows an archetypal quest/romance pattern: regal surroundings are abandoned and the ensuing feats are heroic. The story can be read as an epic, but it also has a comic plot: confusions and trials until the Prince becomes utterly selfless, having found his true element, nirvana. Making use of contemporary literary theory, Flores offers new readings of texts such as the Nikayas, the Dhammapadam, the Heart Sutra, Zen koans, Shantideva's Way of the Bodhisattva, and the Tibetan Book of the Dead. Understanding these works as literature deepens our sense of the unfolding of their teachings, of their exuberant histories, and of their relevance for contemporary life.
