Seeking Environmental Justice Seeking Environmental Justice:

Seeking Environmental Justice ,2008-01-01 The 5th Environmental Justice and Global Citizenship conference was held at Oxford UK in 2006 This decidedly trans disciplinary international event attracted participants from traditionally separate academic perspectives each ambassadors for their disciplines and each seeking and making connections with other disciplines and other understandings Some of the presentations from this conference have been further developed for inclusion in this book yielding 14 chapters of paradigmatic richness covering issues ranging from environmental education and the nature of global multinational corporations to the role of environmental activism and consideration of how democratically representative some campaigns may be This book will be of great interest to anyone working in these areas as well as an excellent introductory journey for those seeking to become pan paradigmatic Seeking Environmental Justice Sarah Wilks,2008 Based on presentations made at the conference entitled Environmental Justice and Global Citizenship held in July 2006 at Oxford UK 14 papers consider environmental concerns against their social contexts Contributors address theories in environmental management as they pertain to society and to orientations in perverse ecologies the framework of sustainability including voluntary agreements and incentives class and conflict in environmental governance including the uses of effective conflict information management including the public debate on genetic modification and the differences between experts and laymen environmental activism education including environmental education in a course on ethics and international development and the effects of free trade corporate capitalism and empowerment of professionals on sustainability and international environmental law Environmental justice in Africa: Cultural and economic impacts on the legal systems Dennis Oghenerobor Agelebe,2025-05-26 This book s overarching theme is to discern the role of law in shaping environmental justice in Africa Simultaneously it delves into the intricate interplay of economic and cultural factors that can either facilitate or impede the pursuit of justice Acknowledging that environmental justice transcends legal frameworks alone the book emphasises its recognition as a social pillar integral to sustainable development In this holistic perspective environmental justice is positioned on equal footing with environmental protection and economic sustainability highlighting its multifaceted nature in Africa Environmental Law and Contrasting Ideas of Nature Keith H. Hirokawa,2014-07-17 Law s ideas of nature appear in different doctrinal and institutional settings historical periods and political dialogues Nature underlies every behavior contract or form of wealth and in this broad sense influences every instance of market transaction or governmental intervention Recognizing that law has embedded discrete constructions of nature helps in understanding how humans value their relationship with nature This book offers a scholarly examination of the manner in which nature is constructed through law both in the hard sense of directly regulating human activities that impact nature and in the soft manner in which law s ideas of nature influence and are influenced by behaviors values and priorities Traditional accounts of the intersection between law and nature generally focus on environmental laws that protect wilderness This book will build on the constructivist observation that when considered as a culturally contingent concept nature is a self perpetuating and self reinforcing social creation Environmental Justice in North America

Paul C. Rosier,2023-11-01 Emphasizing the voices of activists this book s diverse contributors examine communities common experiences with environmental injustice how they organize to address it and the ways in which their campaigns intersect with related movements such as Black Lives Matter and Indigenous sovereignty The global COVID 19 pandemic exposed the ways in which BIPOC Black Indigenous People of Color communities and white working class communities have suffered disproportionately from the crisis due to sustained exposure to toxic land air and water creating a new urgency for addressing underlying conditions of systemic racism and poverty in North America In addition to exploring the historical roots of the Environmental Justice movement in the 1980s and 1990s the volume offers coverage of recent events such as the DAPL pipeline controversy the Flint water crisis and the rise of climate justice The collection incorporates the experiences of rural and urban communities Alaska Natives Native Hawaiians Puerto Ricans and Indigenous peoples in the U S Canada and Mexico The chapters offer instructors undergraduate and graduate students and general readers a range of accessible case studies that create opportunities for comparative and intersectional analysis across geographical and ethnic boundaries

Research Methods in Environmental Law Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos,Victoria Brooks,2017-11-24 This timely Handbook brings innovative free thinking and radical approaches to research methods in environmental law With a comprehensive approach it brings together key concepts such as sustainability climate change activism education and Actor Network Theory It considers how the Anthropocene subjects environmental law to critique and to the needs of the variety of bodies human and non human that require its protection This much needed book provides a theoretically informed analysis of methodological approaches in the discipline such as constitutional analysis rights based approaches spatial geographical analysis immersive methodologies and autoethnography which will aid in the practical critique and re imagining of
