Reading Athena's Dance Card Russell W. Glenn, 2000 Glenn first surveyed members of the 1st Cavalry Division who fought in Vietnam then polled a sample of officers currently on active duty to validate the results His findings demonstrate that contrary to popular perception nearly all American combatants met the fundamental demand of combat engage the enemy when called upon This is a far different statistic from the 25 percent commonly attributed to U S ground forces in World War II

Men Against Fire S. L. A. Marshall, 2012-11-15 S L A Slam Marshall was a veteran of World War I and a combat historian during World War II He startled the military and civilian world in 1947 by announcing that in an average infantry company no more than one in four soldiers actually fired their weapons while in contact with the enemy His contention was based on interviews he conducted immediately after combat in both the European and Pacific theaters of World War II To remedy the gunfire imbalance he proposed changes to infantry training designed to ensure that American soldiers in future wars brought more fire upon the enemy His studies during the Korean War showed that the ratio of fire and more than doubled since World War II

In the Middle of the Fight David Eugene Johnson, Adam Grissom, Olga Olier, 2008 This monograph presents a qualitative assessment of the performance of medium armored forces in 13 past conflicts that span the range of military operations The accompanying analysis is designed to help inform U S Army decisions about fielding medium armored forces in the future The case histories yielded three major insights First medium armored forces fare poorly against competent heavily armored opponents This finding will prove relevant to the U S Army s medium armored forces if their survivability and lethality do not live up to expectations or cannot be fully realized in battlefield conditions Second doctrinal and organizational steps can in certain circumstances mitigate medium armor s liabilities These steps include the implementation of high quality combined arms tactics down to the lowest echelons the effective application of supporting firepower and training for crews and junior leaders Finally the U S Army has lacked a forced entry armor capability since the retirement of the M551 Sheridan Neither the Stryker vehicle nor the Future Combat Systems as currently envisioned can fill that critical void The authors conclude that it would be prudent for the U S Army to maintain a mix of heavy medium armored and light forces that can be task organized and employed in conditions that best match their attributes Medium armored forces have much to offer in such a mix provided by publisher
