Ready Willing And Able A Developmental Approach To College Access And Success:

Ready, Willing, and Able Mandy Savitz-Romer, Suzanne Bouffard, 2012-04-01 How can an understanding of adolescent development inform strategies and practices for supporting first generation college goers In Ready Willing and Able Mandy Savitz Romer and Suzanne Bouffard focus on the developmental tasks and competencies that young people need to develop in order to plan for and succeed in higher education These include identity development articulating aspirations and expectations forming and maintaining strong peer and adult relationships motivation and goal setting and self regulatory skills such as planning The authors challenge the predominant approach of giving young people information and leaving it to them to figure out how to apply it They show how well intended college access efforts can miss the mark for instance by focusing on students who already see themselves as college material rather than working to help all students develop a college going identity In addition most college access programs and practices focus almost exclusively on providing academic preparation and financial support In Ready Willing and Able Savitz Romer and Bouffard call for a new approach one that emphasizes the key developmental tasks and processes of adolescence and integrates them into existing college access practices in meaningful ways Rather than treating young people as passive recipients of services they argue adults can engage them as active agents in the construction of their own futures

(Re)Framing College Access by and with Communities of Color Chrystal A. George Mwangi, Yedalis Ruíz Santana, 2025-04-01 This much needed volume brings together academics practitioners students and community members of Color to thoroughly reframe college access and choice in research and practice Enrollment rates continue to differ substantially by race and ethnicity While Black Indigenous and other People of Color remain inequitably stratified in the pursuit of higher education many models of college choice are simply insufficient for understanding the college going processes of diverse students Continually centering BIPOC knowledge assets and needs contributors provide a series of varied yet connected frameworks grounded in culturally sustaining community oriented research Like the educational journeys it represents the volume is a communal activity that invites participation Each chapter concludes with a series of critical reflection questions to guide readers in deeper learning and engagement

Schooling for Critical Consciousness Scott Seider, Daren Graves, 2020-08-26 Schooling for Critical Consciousness addresses how schools can help Black and Latinx youth resist the negative effects of racial injustice and challenge its root causes Scott Seider and Daren Graves draw on a four year longitudinal study examining how five different mission driven urban high schools foster critical consciousness among their students The book presents vivid portraits of the schools as they implement various programs and practices and traces the impact of these approaches on the students themselves The authors make a unique contribution to the existing scholarship on critical consciousness and culturally responsive teaching by comparing the roles of different schooling models in fostering various dimensions of critical consciousness and identifying specific programming and practices that contributed to this work Through their research with more than 300 hundred students of color Seider and Graves aim to help educators strengthen their capacity to support young people in learning to analyze navigate and challenge racial injustice Schooling for Critical Consciousness provides school leaders and educators with specific programming and practices they can incorporate into their own school contexts to support the critical consciousness development of the youth they serve

Teaching with a Social, Emotional, and Cultural Lens Nancy Lourié Markowitz, Suzanne M. Bouffard, 2022-08-18 Teaching with a Social Emotional and Cultural Lens goes beyond existing social emotional learning programs to introduce a new framework for integrating the development of key skills needed for academic success into daily classroom practice The framework spells out the competencies processes and strategies that effective P 12 educators need to employ in order to build students social and emotional learning The book is based on a decade of pioneering work by the Center for Reaching and Teaching the Whole Child at San Jos State University building on the work of the Collaborative for Academic Social and Emotional Learning CASEL and on research about effective teaching and learning and culturally responsive practices Teaching with a Social Emotional and Cultural Lens serves as a critical roadmap for educators whether they are university faculty searching for how to bring a social emotional and cultural lens into their methods or foundations course and field work experiences or classroom teachers hoping to infuse critical skill building into the everyday academic learning that is the traditional focus of schools Boost Emotional Intelligence in Students Maurice J.
