Performance Engineering of Software Systems Connie U. Smith, 1990 Performance Engineering Reiner Dumke, Claus Rautenstrauch, Andreas Schmietendorf, Andre Scholz, 2003-06-29 Initially computer systems performance analyses were carried out primarily because of limited resources Due to ever increasing functional complexity of computational systems and user requirements performance engineering continues to play a major role in software development This book assesses the state of the art in performance engineering Besides revised chapters drawn from two workshops on performance engineering held in 2000 additional chapters were solicited in order to provide complete coverage of all relevant aspects The first part is devoted to the relation between software engineering and performance engineering the second part focuses on the use of models measures and tools finally case studies with regard to concrete technologies are presented Researchers professional software engineers and advanced students interested in performance analysis will find this book an indispensable source of information and reference Performance Engineering Of Software Systems C.U. Smith, New Approaches in Software Measurement Reiner Dumke, Alain Abran, 2003-06-29 Software measurement is one of the key technologies employed to control and manage the software development process Research avenues such as the applicability of metrics the efficiency of measurement programs in industry and the theoretical foundations of software engineering have been investigated to evaluate and improve modern software development areas such as object orientation compone based develop ment multimedia systems design reliable telecommunication systems etc In the tradition of our software measurement research communities the German Computer Science Interest GI Group on Software Measurement and the Canadian Interest Group in Software Metrics CIM have attended to these concerns in recent years Initially research initiatives were directed at the definition of new methods of software measurement and the validation of these methods themselves This was then followed by more and more investigation into practical applications of software measurement and key findings in this area of software engineering have been published in Dumke Zuse Theory and Practice of Software Measurement 1994 Ebert Dumke Software Metriken in der Praxis 1996 Lehner Dumke Abran Software Metrics Research and Practice in Software Measurement 1997 Dumke Abran Software Measurement Current Trends in Research and Practice 1999 We would also like to mention that the proceedings of the Lac Sup rieur workshop have been made available on the web at www.lrgl.uqam.ca This new book includes the proceedings of the 10th Workshop on Software Measurement held in Berlin in October 2000 Component-Based Software Engineering George Heineman, Ivica Crnkovic, Heinz W. Components at Work was the eighth in a series of events that promote a science and technology foundation for achieving predictable quality in software systems through the use of software component technology and its associated software engineering practices. We were fortunate to have a dedicated Program Committee comprised of 30 internationally recognized researchers and industrial practitioners. We received 91 submissions and each paper was reviewed by at least three Program Committee members. Four papers were accepted for the Program Committee. The entire reviewing process was supported by CyberChairPro, the Web-based paper submission and review system developed and supported by Richard van de Stadt of Borbala Online Conference Services. After a two-day virtual Program Committee meeting, 21 submissions were accepted as long papers and 2 submissions were accepted as short papers.

History of Nordic Computing 3 John Impagliazzo, Per Lundin, Benkt Wangler, 2011-09-29. This book constitutes the refereed post-proceedings of the Third IFIP WG 9.7 Conference on the History of Nordic Computing HiNC3 held in Stockholm, Sweden, in October 2010. They are organized in the following topical sections: computerizing public sector industries; computerizing management and financial industries; computerizing art, media, and schools; users and systems development; the making of a Nordic computing industry; Nordic networking; Nordic software development; Nordic research in software and systems development; teaching at Nordic universities; and new historiographical approaches and methodological reflections.

Advances and Innovations in Systems, Computing Sciences and Software Engineering Khaled Elleithy, 2007-08-28. Advances and Innovations in Systems, Computing Sciences and Software Engineering includes a set of rigorously reviewed world-class manuscripts addressing and detailing state-of-the-art research projects in the areas of Computing Sciences, Software Engineering, and Systems. Advances and Innovations in Systems, Computing Sciences and Software Engineering includes selected papers from the conference proceedings of the International Conference on Systems, Computing Sciences and Software Engineering SCSS 2006, which was part of the International Joint Conferences on Computer Information and Systems Sciences and Engineering CISSE 2006. All aspects of the conference were managed online: not only the reviewing, submissions, and registration processes but also the actual conference. Conference participants, authors, presenters, and attendees only needed an internet connection and sound available on their computers in order to be able to contribute and participate in this international ground breaking conference The on line structure of this high quality event allowed academic professionals and industry participants to contribute work and attend world class technical presentations based on rigorously refereed submissions live without the need for investing significant travel funds or time out of the office Suffice to say that CISSE received submissions from more than 70 countries for whose researchers this opportunity presented a much more affordable dynamic and well planned event to attend and submit their work to versus a classic on the ground conference The CISSE conference audio room provided superb audio even over low speed internet connections the ability to display PowerPoint presentations and cross platform compatibility the conferencing software runs on Windows Mac and any other operating system that supports Java In addition the conferencing system allowed for an unlimited number of participants which in turn granted CISSE the opportunity to allow all participants to attend all presentations as opposed to limiting the number of available seats for each session
