Neutralizing Memory The Jew In Contemporary Poland:

Neutralizing Memory Iwona Irwin-Zarecka, 1990-01-01 This exploration of the texture of contemporary Polish Jewish relations has its origins in the author's haunting experience of growing up Polish and Jewish in Warsaw in the 1960s. It began with questions about silence: the silence of Jewish parents and the silence of once Jewish towns, the silence in Auschwitz and the silence about anti-Semitism. But when the author went to Europe in 1983 to work on the project that resulted in this book, Poland was in the midst of preparation for a grand commemoration of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising. From all parts of the political spectrum came calls to remember and to honor Polish Jews, to reexamine and to reassess the past. In effect, Poland was inviting the Jew into its household of memories. What did such an invitation mean? And what accounted for the timing? This vividly written account of the people, the politics, the goals and the obstacles behind words of remembrance in Poland is an example of cultural sociology at its best. The author draws on a combination of textual readings, interviews and historical analyses. The book's main strength is its continuous dialogue between analyst and insider, between knowledge and experience. Into a field where cognitive and emotional imprints make all the difference, the author brings unique appreciation of the power they hold; she has shared them. Into a field where partisanship so often passes for objectivity, she brings openly stated commitment. And into a field where particularism of concerns so often deadlocks understanding, she brings much needed broadening of vision. Students of modern Jewish history will find this volume an informative analysis of the past and present roles assigned to the Jew in Poland. Students of contemporary Poland will find new perspectives on its struggles for a democratic society. And for those concerned with how one reconciles one's self and one's history, Neutralizing Memory offers an empirically based reflection on the construction and deconstruction of remembrance. Jewish Space in Contemporary

Poland Erica Lehrer, Michael Meng, 2015-04-27 Essays on the restoration and revival of Jewish sites in post-Holocaust, post-Communist Poland. Highly recommended. Choice. In a time of national introspection regarding the country's involvement in the persecution of Jews, Poland has begun to reimagine spaces of and for Jewishness in the Polish landscape, not as a form of nostalgia but as a way to encourage the pluralization of contemporary society. The essays in this book explore issues of the restoration, restitution, memorializing and tourism that have brought present inhabitants into contact with initiatives to revive Jewish sites. They reveal that an emergent Jewish presence in both urban and rural landscapes exists in conflict and collaboration with other remembered minorities, engaging in complex negotiations with local, regional, national and international groups and interests. With its emphasis on spaces and built environments, this volume illuminates the role of the material world in the complex encounter with the Jewish past in contemporary Poland. Evokes a revolution; the word is not too strong. In the possibilities, new goals and shifting facts on the ground associated with Jewish history and lives in Poland today. Canadian Jewish News. Stranger in Our Midst Harold B. Segel, 2018-07-05 A vibrant Jewish community flourished in Poland from late in the tenth century until it was virtually annihilated in World War II. In this remarkable anthology, the first of its kind Harold B Segel offers translations of poems and prose works mainly fiction by non Jewish Polish writers Taken together the selections represent the complex perceptions about Jews in the Polish community in the period 1530 1990

Jews and Germans in Eastern Europe Tobias Grill,2018-09-24 For many centuries Jews and Germans were economically and culturally of significant importance in East Central and Eastern Europe Since both groups had a very similar background of origin Central Europe and spoke languages which are related to each other German Yiddish the question arises to what extent Jews and Germans in Eastern Europe share common historical developments and experiences This volume aims to explore not only entanglements and interdependences of Jews and Germans in Eastern Europe from the late middle ages to the 20th century but also comparative aspects of these two communities Moreover the perception of Jews as Germans in this region is also discussed in detail Collaboration with the Nazis Roni Stauber,2010-09-13 This book examines the changes in representing collaboration especially in the destruction of European Jewry in the public discourse and the historiography of various countries In Europe In particular it shows how representations and responses have been conditioned by national and political trends and constraints Poland in the Modern World Brian Porter-Szücs,2014-01-06 Poland in the Modern World presents a history of the country from the late nineteenth century to the present incorporating new perspectives from social and cultural history and positioning it in a broad global context Challenges traditional accounts Poland that tend to focus on national political history emphasizing the country s exceptionalism Presents a lively multi dimensional story balancing coverage of high politics with discussion of social cultural and economic changes and their effects on individuals daily lives Explores both the regional diversity within Poland and the country s place within Europe and the wider world Provides a new interpretive framework for understanding key historical events in Poland s modern history including the experiences of World War II and the postwar communist era (Re)visualizing National History Robin Ostow,2008-01-01 The role of the museum is a contentious one The last fifteen years have seen scholars point to ways in which states particularly imperial states use museums as sites to showcase looted treasure to document their geographic expansion to present the state as the guardian of the national treasure and to educate citizens and subjects This period has also seen a great deal of attention paid to the reshaping of national histories and values in the wake of the collapse of the Communist bloc and the emergence of the European Union Re Visualizing National History brings these two streams of scholarship together treating the wave of monument and museum building in Europe as part of an attempt to forge consensus in politically unified but deeply divided nations The essays in this collection explore the ways in which museums exhibit new national values and equally important how the realization of these new museums and new exhibits in older museums reflects the search for a new consensus among different generational groups in Europe and in North America The approach of the volume is deliberately interdisciplinary The contributors come from a variety of countries in Europe and North America speaking from the perspectives of cultural studies history art history anthropology and sociology as well as museum studies Jewish Poland Revisited Erica T. Lehrer, 2013-07-19 National Jewish Book Award Finalist A fresh and delightful portrait of Jewish renewal in Poland Highly recommended Choice Since the end of Communism Jews from around the world have visited Poland to tour Holocaust related sites A few venture further seeking to learn about their own Polish roots and connect with contemporary Poles For their part a growing number of Poles are fascinated by all things Jewish In this book Erica T Lehrer explores the intersection of Polish and Jewish memory projects in the historically Jewish neighborhood of Kazimierz in Krakow Her own journey becomes part of the story as she demonstrates that Jews and Poles use spaces institutions interpersonal exchanges and cultural representations to make sense of their historical inheritances

The Myth of Jewish Communism André Gerrits, 2009 This title presents a full length analysis of the identification of Jews with communism It traces the myth of Jewish communism from the traditional anti Jewish prejudices on which it is built to its crucial role in Eastern European Stalinist and post Stalinist politics Framing the Holocaust in Polish Aftermath Cinema Matilda Mroz, 2021-02-09 This book offers a unique perspective on contemporary Polish cinema s engagement with histories of Polish violence against their Jewish neighbours during the Holocaust Moving beyond conventional studies of historical representation on screen the book considers how cinema reframes the unwanted knowledge of violence in its aftermaths The book draws on Derridean hauntology Didi Huberman s confrontations with art images Levinasian ethics and anamorphosis to examine cinematic reconfigurations of histories and memories that are vulnerable to evasion and formlessness Innovative analyses of Birthplace ozi ski 1992 It Looks Pretty From a Distance Sasnal 2011 Aftermath Pasikowski 2012 and Ida Pawlikowski 2013 explore how their rural filmic landscapes are predicated on the radical exclusion of Jewish neighbours prompting archaeological processes of exhumation Arguing that the distressing materiality of decomposition disturbs cinematic composition the book examines how Poland s aftermath cinema attempts to recompose itself through form and narrative as it faces Polish complicity in Jewish death
